INFILTRATION BID FOILED ALONG LOC IN J&K; ONE ULTRA KILLED

SRINAGAR: The Army on Thursday foiled an infiltration bid along the Line of Control (LoC) in Tangdhar sector of Jammu and Kashmir, killing one terrorist. A defence spokesman said a search operation was launched in the morning, following which a body was recovered. An AK series rifle, one light automatic weapon, six magazines, two grenades and a large quantity of war-like stores were recovered.

THE AGRICULTURAL FRONTIER

Reviving Tradition:

Millets were once part of the state's daily diet. The Chhattisgarh Government is helping to bring the small cereal grains back

Millet On Wheels Takes Off

Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel flagged off the state's first mobile millet cafe Millet on Wheels at Kharsia in Raigarh district in January. Higher Education Minister Umesh Patel and Home Minister Tamradhwaj Sahu were also present on the occasion. Chief Minister Baghel cut a cake made of ragi on the occasion. Appreciating this initiative, he said that it would increase awareness among the people to include millet dishes in their meals. He extended his best wishes to the women's SHG operating the mobile cafe.

Dishes made from ragi, kodo, and kutki will be served in this cafe. It will be run by Anubhav SHG. Dishes served in the mobile millet café include ragi cheela, dosa, ragi paratha, idli, ragi manchurian, pizza, kodo ki biryani and cookies. The Millet Mission has been launched by the Chief Minister to encourage the production and consumption of coarse grains. The year 2023 is to be observed as International Millet Year at the international level.

Kodo, kutki, ragi are being procured in Chhattisgarh at the support price

Chhattisgarh is the first state in the country where production and consumption of millets are being promoted continuously under the leadership of Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel. The Chhattisgarh Government is procuring kodo, kutki and ragi at the support price. With this initiative, the area under millets in Chhattisgarh has increased by one and a half times and production has also increased significantly. On the initiative of the Chief Minister, special lunch was organised in the Chhattisgarh Legislative Assembly for the MLAs and the media to promote dishes made from millets. In Chhattisgarh, the biggest processing plant of millets has also been set up at Nathiya-Nawagaon in Kanker district. Millet processing plants are being set up in rural industrial parks as well.

Centuries-old consumption patterns are being revived again

For many generations, small cereal grains like ragi and kodo were a major part of our diet. But over a period of time, the consumption of these grains became less and less popular despite these grains being rich in many nutrients that are essential for health. The State Government is taking important steps to encourage consumption of these grains in the daily diet. The Millet Cafe is one of the many initiatives taken by Chhattisgarh Government in this direction.

Women entrepreneurship is getting a boost

This cafe was started at the initiative and with the cooperation of the district administration and is being operated by the Vikas Sangh Women's Group. The Women and Child Development Department and the Transforming Rural India Foundation is providing the technical support. Through this millet-based cafe, women self-employment and entrepreneurship is also being promoted.

Chhattisgarh's millet diplomacy

Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel has sent millet hampers across the country with greetings and best wishes for Makar Sankranti. The Chief Minister has sent millet hampers to Union Ministers and Prime Minister Narendra Modi, chief ministers across the country, artists, writers, media persons, eminent personalities of the film industry and political personalities.

Prime Minister appreciates Millet Mission

Prime Minister Narendra Modi recently appreciated Chhattisgarh's Millet Mission. He advised Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel to open more Millet Cafes in Raipur. The Millet Mission was launched in the state on December 1, 2021, with the objective to promote the cultivation of millets such as kodo, kutki, ragi to promote the processing of millets and to include millets in the daily diet to eradicate malnutrition. Through the Chhattisgarh State Minor Forest Produce Association, procurement is being done by fixing the minimum purchase price of kodo, kutki and ragi in the state.

Millet dishes to be served in Anganwadi and mid-day meals

Processing centres have been set up at the local level to promote the processing of millet in Chhattisgarh. Also, a millet processing centre of 5,000 tonnes capacity has been set up in the private sector at Kanker district, which is Asia's largest millet processing unit. Millet dishes including cookies, laddoos and soya chikki have also been included in Anganwadi and mid-day meals in the state.

Chhattisgarh's MLAs get a taste of millets

Ragi soup, ragi pakoras, kodo bhajiya, bajra and jaggery puye, kutki ke fara and cheela as starters? That was on the menu when Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel hosted special luncheon for all the state MLAs with dishes made from millet. In the m--ain course, everyone relished bajra kadhi, lal bhaji, jimmi kanda, kodo vegetarian pulao, jowar, bajra, ragi ki roti and paratha. For those with a sweet tooth there was desserts kodo dry fruits kheer with ragi and kutki cupcake and ragi halwa.

Millet Mission gathers honours

The state of Chhattisgarh has also bagged the national-level Poshak Anaj Award 2022 for promoting the cultivation of millets. To promote millet production in the state, it has been included in the Rajiv Gandhi Kisan Nyay Yojana. Millets-producing farmers are also being provided assistance of Rs 9,000 per acre as an incentive.

AGE CAP OFF UNDER LATEST ORGAN TRANSPLANT RULES

Patients of all ages, including those above 65 years, can soon register to receive organs anywhere in India. A person can register to receive organs in any state — not just their home state — under the revised rules. This will lead to the creation of a single, pan-India, waiting list. The changes come after the Supreme Court asked the Centre to take appropriate action against states demanding domicile certificates from patients wishing to register in the transplant registry.

Permanent CWC seats for Gandhis?

Party may amend constitution to reserve CWC slots for former Cong presidents Sonia & Rahul

SHAHID FARIDI @ New Delhi

THE Congress may amend its constitution to give a permanent place to former party presidents Sonia Gandhi and Rahul Gandhi in the Congress Working Committee (CWC), the party's highest decision-making body.

Sources said the issue came up for discussion in the party's Constitution Amendment Committee, which met at New Delhi on Thursday under the chairmanship of Ambika Soni.

The committee, comprising Randeep Singh Surjewala, K C Venugopal, Mukul Wasnik, Ajay Maken, Jitendra Singh, Abhishek Manu Singhvi, Mohan Prakash, Deepa Dasmunshi and G Parameshwara, besides Soni, also discussed giving a permanent CWC seat to former prime ministers belonging to the party.

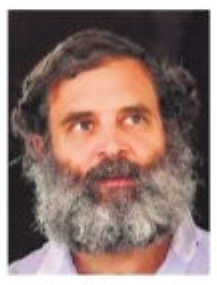
According to sources, if this proposal is adopted, there will be only three beneficiaries — Sonia and Rahul, who have been Congress presidents, and Manmohan Singh, the former PM.

The party has been debating whether or not to hold CWC elections at the Raipur plenary scheduled to be held on February 24-26. The question whether Sonia, Rahul and Priyanka Gandhi-Vadra should contest or be nominated by president Mallikarjun Kharge has been at the centre of discussions among the party brass. As per the party constitution, half of the 24 members of the CWC are elected, while the rest are nominated by the party president to give representation to unrepresented sections.

The members of the CWC are elected by around 1,400 members of the All India Congress Committee (AICC). In the normal course, AICC members are informed about the CWC poll at least a month prior to the election date. But with less than a fortnight left, electors are yet to be informed about the poll.

Sources said the delay was on account of the dilemma on how to get the Gandhis into the CWC. They said a decision by the Constitution Amendment Committee to give a permanent place to former party presidents and prime ministers would not only bring clarity on the Gandhis' inclusion in the CWC but also pave the way for a smooth conduct of election to the apex body.

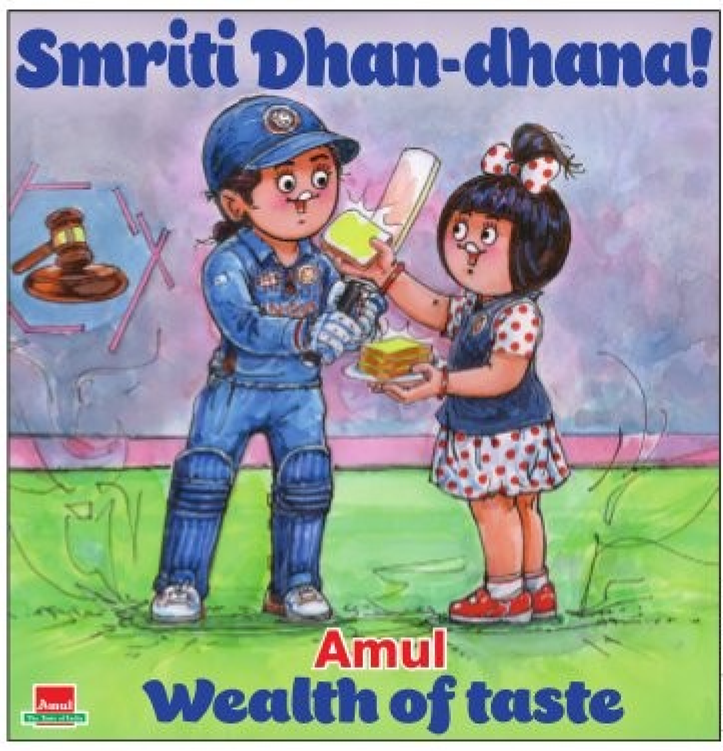
Sonia Gandhi



Rahul Gandhi

Priyanka to contest?

There are reports that Priyanka, a CWC member, may take the election route to the panel. Rahul has indicated that he wants free and fair polls. The Raipur plenary may, therefore, see a large number of prominent leaders entering the race for a CWC seat



Siddu predicts 'civil war' if BJP comes back to power

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hubballi

CLP leader Siddaramaiah said on Thursday that the state will witness a "civil war" if the BJP comes back to power after the Assembly polls. Speaking after inducting several JDS workers into the Congress party, he called upon the people to defeat "communal forces" and warned that if they came back to power, it will threaten peace in society.

"Those responsible for protecting the lives and properties of public are inciting violence by giving provocative statements," he said

The former CM held the JDS responsible for the growth of the BJP in the state and pointed out that if JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy had not tied up with the BJP, the latter would not have been in the position they are in today. "After making an alliance with communal forces, Kumaraswamy is now projecting himself as secular leader," he charged.

Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan's "finish off" Siddaramaiah remark rocked the Assembly on Thursday, but later clarified he meant "no vote for Congress", and regretted what he said. P6

Sporadic violence reported, Tripura voter turnout high

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Guwahati

SPORADIC incidents of violence and intimidation of voters were reported from Tripura, which went to polls on Thursday. With the voter turnout at 81% at 4 pm, the final tally is expected to be much higher.

Drawing any inference from the high polling is fraught with risk, as in the 2013 and 2018 elections in the state, the voter turnout was 91.82% and 89.38%, respectively. While CPM retained power in 2013, the BJP wrested it in 2018.

At least three persons — a CPM leader and two polling agents of the party — sustained injuries in separate incidents of violence during polling. The CPM alleged some 60 workers of opposition parties were injured in attacks by ruling BJP workers in South Tripura, West Tripura, Gomati and Sepahijala districts. It also alleged that the polling agents of its candidates were evicted from more than 25 polling stations.

Tribe-based TIPRA Motha chief Pradyot Bikram Manikya Debbarma, whose party is influential in the 20 ST-reserved seats, said: "The BJP should have learnt that the Left Front got routed in 2018 because of intimidation. People don't like bullying."

Chief Electoral Officer Kiran Dinkarrao Gitte said security personnel intervened promptly wherever there was any trouble. The authorities suspended a police constable in the Gomati district for allegedly asking people to vote in favour of BJP.

Displaced Brus/Reangs of Mizoram resettled in Tripura after the signing of a quadripartite agreement two years ago, got to vote after a long time.

Chief Minister Manik Saha was confident the BJP would retain power in the state with an absolute majority.

Populist schemes likely in budget today

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

THE state budget to be presented by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday is likely to have many populist schemes as the state is going to Assembly polls in April/May this year. It will be the last budget of the government for this term.

Highly-placed sources in the government told The New Indian Express that it will be a full budget, but the CM will seek a vote on account approval. In an election year, a government seeks a vote on account instead of presenting a full budget because if the government changes after elections it should have the right to present its own budget for the remaining part of the year.

"In Karnataka, there has been no precedence of an interim budget. So, it's always a full budget. Another option is to have a short session and take a vote on account approval for four months and then have more discussions and pass it for the full year. Or get the budget passed for the entire year in one go," an official said. This will be the second budget to be presented by the chief minister, who also holds the finance portfolio.

RUN-UP TO BUDGET 2023-24

As Bommai is from North Karnataka, he is expected to allocate more funds for the development of Kalyana Karnataka and Kittur Karnataka region along with Bengaluru and old Mysuru region, where BJP is eying more seats.

The recent Union Budget had allocated ₹1.25 lakh crore for farmers. It also set aside ₹5,300 crore for the Upper Bhadra Project (UKP) which will help irrigate land in central Karnataka. Bommai too hinted that his budget will be agriculture-centric. Education and health sectors are also likely to get a fair share.

SHAW ATTACKED OVER SELFIES

India cricketer Prithvi Shaw was involved in a late night scuffle with a social media influencer after 'refusing to give selfies'. Going by a police complaint in Mumbai, here's what happened

Shaw had initially taken pictures with the group, but when they demanded more, he refused to entertain them. Shaw and his friend requested the hotel manager to have them removed

However, the fans waited outside armed with baseball bats. When the pair managed to drive away, they chased and intercepted him at a traffic signal (Oshiwara), broke car's windshield

The fight took place late on Wednesday night at a plush hotel in Vile Parle East. Videos of the car chase and brawl went viral on Thursday. Social media influencer Sapna Gill was arrested

The accused damaged the complainant's car and demanded ₹50,000 to let go of the matter, claimed DCP Zone 9 (Mumbai) Anil Paraskar. But the accused refuted the charges

Air India deal size gets bigger, at 840 aircraft

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

AIR India's mega deal with two of the world's largest aircraft manufacturers — Airbus and Boeing — to purchase 470 planes can be topped up by 370 to supply a total of 840 jets. The Tata group-run airline's order to buy 470 planes has the option to purchase 370 more, said Nipun Aggarwal, the carrier's chief commercial and transformation officer.

"The order comprises 470 firm aircraft, 370 options and purchase rights to be procured from Airbus and Boeing over the next decade. We have also signed up for long-term maintenance of the engines with CFM International, Rolls-Royce and GE Aerospace," Aggarwal wrote on LinkedIn.

Air India had on Tuesday placed an order for 250 planes with Europe's Airbus and 220 planes with US' Boeing. This was one of the largest deals for planes ever made in the commercial aviation history. Aggarwal said in the LinkedIn post: "It is indeed a landmark moment in the history of Air India and Indian aviation. This order of 840 aircraft has been a culmination of a fascinating journey that began almost two years ago starting with the Air India privatisation process."

Good news for Sai devotees as DGCA okays night landing at Shirdi airport

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IT's raining good news for Sai Baba devotees. Days after Prime Minister Narendra Modi inaugurated the Mumbai-Shirdi route for the semi-high-speed Vande Bharat Express, the Shirdi airport has got the Directorate General of Civil Aviation's nod for night landing.

This is the third important decision to boost connectivity. According to sources, the BJP has been putting in extra efforts to make it possible for Sai devotees to visit Shirdi at any time and from any place in India.

The famed temple town is already well connected by road, especially after the Phase I of the Nagpur-Shirdi Samrudhi Mahamarg was inaugurated by Modi in December 2022. The rail connectivity also got better after the Vande Bharat launch. And now with the civil aviation regulator's permission for night service, devotees from all over the country will be able to attend the 4.00 am mangal aarti.

Confirming the DGCA nod for night landing, Maharashtra's deputy chief minister Devendra Fadnavis tweeted: "Hat-trick of Good news for SaiBhakts and for Maharashtra! After Samruddhi Mahamarg, Vande Bharat Express, now our Shirdi airport gets the 'Night landing' licence from DGCA this morning!" He added that the night flights are expected to start as early as next month.

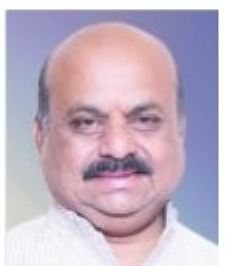
Bommai proposes BWSSB vigilance squad to check water wastage

Audit of water distribution to be done, ₹8,000 crore needed to replace old pipes: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai said that a vigilance squad would be set up to check unauthorised water connections and pilferage and measures will be undertaken to reduce leakage.

Replying to a question by BJP MLC Bharathi Shetty in the Legislative Council on Thursday, Bommai said that there was a need to improve water management and the government has been taking steps in this regard. "We will be conducting an audit of bulk water and its distribution. There are unauthorised connection, but role of some officials have been found in some water pilferage cases. To end this, we are planning to set up a vigilance squad in the BWSSB," he said.



The percentage of water leakage was 37 per cent when he assumed office, which has now reduced to 29 per cent. "Several steps have been taken to curb leakage. However, there has been leakage due to various reasons like old pipes which were laid 40-50 years earlier. Works are on to replace them, and work of laying new pipes for 22 km is underway. However, Rs 8,000 crore is needed to replace old pipes and rejuvenate old storage. These works will be undertaken in phases," Bommai said, adding that the government aims for zero water leakage over the next few years.

Replying to a question by JDS member TA Saravana, Bommai said that a grant of Rs 10 crore each will be sanctioned for Brahmins Development Board and Arya Vaishya Development Board. Saravana alleged that boards for other communities have been given additional grants but Brahmins and Arya Vaishya Boards were neglected. Bommai said that the grants will be released in the current fiscal year.

Responding to another question, he assured that the government will complete construction of 57 Shaadi Mahals which were sanctioned over the last three years and Rs 54 crore is required for them. The amount will be released as per completion of work. "The scholarship for students from minority community studying PhD or are in abroad will continue," he said.

STREETS FLOODED WITH SEWAGE NEAR MLA'S HOME: AAP LEADER

Bengaluru: Alleging that MLA NA Haris has not developed his Assembly segment, AAP leader KS Mathai said near the MLA's home in Ashok Nagar, streets are flooded with sewage. On Markham Road, diagonally opposite Harris' residence, roads are flooded. Small hotels and shops are finding it difficult to run their businesses as customers refuse to use that road. "After visiting Markham Road, I was shocked to see that manholes are overflowing with sewage water. This is the situation 100 feet away from the MLA's residence," said Mathai, who is also an AAP candidate from Shanthinagar Assembly segment. Reacting to the development, the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) officials clarified that the problem was caused due to new sewage line measuring which has encountered an obstacle due to the four-meter rock near Garuda Mall, and so, the old lines are getting flooded. "The sewage lines are more than 40 years old, and is incapable of taking the existing load. The lines are being replaced in Ashok Nagar area using the Rs 80 lakh grant. It will take about 90 days to complete the work as sewage line has to be taken up to Domlur to connect to Koramangala-Chalghatta valley," said BC Gangadhar, chief engineer, waste water management, BWSSB.

Brigade Road sinkhole: BMRCL asked to shell out ₹3.5 cr for old pipes

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

The sinkhole which developed on Brigade Road on January 12

THE Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board (BWSSB) has approached the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) in connection with the sinkhole on Brigade Road a month ago due to a leaking old pipeline, requesting it to shell out ₹3.5 crore to replace old pipelines along the Metro's alignment. BMRCL appears in no mood to oblige though.

A BWSSB official told TNIE a letter was sent three days ago to Metro requesting for the same. "Our old pipelines date back to somewhere between 1970 and 1975. The Tunnel Boring Machines cause vibrations while carrying out work. There is movement of heavy vehicles, usage of heavy equipment, and all these impact our pipelines," he claimed.

> Tunnel Boring Machines cause vibrations while carrying out work. There is movement of heavy vehicles, usage of heavy equipments, which impact our pipelines
> BWSSB official

The official added that old pipelines from Mico Layout to MG Road are likely to be affected as they fall in the Kalena Agrahara to Nagawara underground corridor.

The cause of the sinkhole on January 12 was suspected to be Metro's tunnelling work. It soon became clear that a BWSSB water pipeline dating back to 1972 was the reason for leakage. A Metro source said that replacing its old pipelines was BWSSB's job. "There is no way we would be giving funds. Every rupee we spend from BMRCL's funds has to be justified. If we go about funding infra works everywhere we carry out construction, we will have to finance works across the city," he said.

Whitefield-KR Puram stretch to be ready after March 15

The 13-km Whitefield to KR Puram stretch will be ready for launch any time after March 15, said BMRCL MD Anjum Parwez. "We have an internal target of being ready for operations operations by March 10. The Chief Metro Rail Safety Commissioner will carry out inspections from February 22 to 24," he said.

On Thursday, deputy CMRS carried out a pre-inspection of the line. "It was successful. We are now gearing up for the safety commissioner's visit," said a top Metro source.

Asked about the incomplete stations, the MD said, "We have deployed more labourers who work till midnight at KR Puram Metro station. The work starts at 6am everyday, and 150 workers at present are working. Mahadevapura station has some works to be completed."

Ex-corporators' protest poll stunt, says Jayanagar MLA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

FOUR former BBMP corporators concertedly took on Jayanagar MLA Sowmya Reddy, accusing her of blocking development works. Warning her that this time the election contest will be tough, former corporators SK Nataraj, Somashekhar, Govind Naidu and CK Ramamurthy launched protests holding banners, raised slogans against the MLA, and appealed to voters to oust her.

"Jayanagar's commercial complex and surrounding areas are in a shambles, and the MLA has failed to develop those areas. Besides, ₹6 crore was allocated for a community hall at Bhovi Colony, Byrasandra ward, but work never took off despite a work order and job code. At Sarakki and Shakambari Nagar vegetable markets, there are no basic facilities," said CM Ramamurthy, an aspiring BJP candidate.

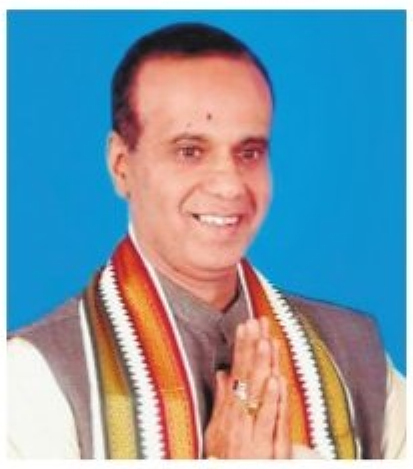
Interestingly, it was Somashekhar, former corporator from Shakambari Nagar ward who was a ticket aspirant during the 2018 byelections against Sowmya, who supported Ramamurthy's candidacy from the same segment after they reached an understanding.

"It is obvious they are protesting as elections are coming up. Why didn't they protest when the state government cut down 61% of Jayanagar's funds? I have to work with the funds at my disposal. You can ask the citizens about me. Their response will be that I am accessible, clean and I work with those who are protesting. I have spoken up about various issues in the assembly, like TenderSure and the Jayanagar complex," said Sowmya. Former corporator from Byrasandra ward N Nagaraj said the MLA has been struggling to get work done for Jayanagar and its commercial complex shopkeepers' association over a few years.

Drums of Destiny: Turkey earthquakes due to negative influence of the Sun and Saturn

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

EMINENT Vedic astrologer Dr SK Jain said the devastating earthquakes that rocked Turkey and Syria earlier this month, claiming over 40,000 lives, was due to the negative influence of Saturn and the Sun coming together on the same house. "We are currently in one of the most inauspicious periods of the year, with Saturn and the Sun together in the same house. For the next 20 odd days until they separate, people should avoid taking important life-changing decisions," he said.



Jain also attributed the diplomatic crisis between the United States and China over surveillance balloons, the stock meltdown of Adani group, the derailment of several trains carrying toxic chemicals in the United States and much more that has happened across the world over the last 10 days to Saturn and the Sun's negative influence. "Russia has increased its attacks on Ukraine, while the United States is preparing for a possible nuclear war with the former. Meanwhile in Pakistan, inflation has skyrocketed to unprecedented levels. Essentially, the entirety of humanity is currently under grave danger," he added.

While the Sun and Saturn coming together in the same house is a common occurrence, happening twice every year, Jain said that several other factors such as an increase in alcoholism, gambling and cattle slaughter, as well as disrespect for women, have also contributed to make the period especially dangerous for humanity. "Despite all the advancements in technology, humanity wasn't able to predict the earthquakes in Turkey. Yet, birds and animals in the region were aware of the impending doom, as evidenced by birds flocking to trees in large numbers just before the initial tremors hit," Jain said.

The upcoming New Moon during Shivratri is highly inauspicious, according to Jain, who suggested that people take proper measures to ensure their health and well being until the event passes. "Hosting Aero India during this period was not a good idea. While the authorities are already struggling to manage traffic congestion, the event could also face other problems," he said adding that during this period, people of Aries, Taurus, Virgo and Capricorn zodiacs are likely to enjoy good health, enjoy financial and professional success, while people of Gemini, Scorpio, Libra, Sagittarius likely enjoying mixed success and people of Cancer, Leo, Aquarius and Pisces zodiacs suffering poor health, financial and professional success.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

17th February: Some people think that astrology can't work because it is impossible for an object as far away as a planet to have any connection with life on Earth. In fact, scientists now believe that the tiny particles which make up our bodies can be linked to stars which are billions of miles away on the other side of the universe.

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Sun is still urging you to make the most of social contacts, but already you're moving into a new phase which could last a month and will leave you feeling rather isolated. This is not a bad thing: there'll be moments when you actually want to be alone.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
If a promised move of home or major domestic change is held up over the next six months, the reason is that you should stay where you are and address fundamental questions. It may be that you need to work at a current relation-ship. Or it possibly that solid repairs and sub-stantial building work are necessary. Which is it to be?

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
I don't think that anyone should tangle with you at the moment. If they do, they must reckon on the fact that you're in a martial mood, and that you will therefore undoubtedly give as good as you get. You are not about to give way gracefully if there's no reason to do so.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Money matters should now be settled, at least as far as the short-term is concerned. You may now like to consider other questions, like where on earth you're going to go on holiday this year, if anywhere. You see, the important connections seem to lie a long way away.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
You can make great strides forward at this time. Hopefully, personal matters may be put to one side. In that case, you could direct your thoughts towards the financial situation. There are indeed purchases to be made, but savings seem more perfectly to suit your mood.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your role and purpose must be to renew bonds with individuals who have drifted apart. The chance of a dispute at work can be postponed with some fancy footwork and a few words of reassurance. The fact that a partner may be feeling uncomfortable with current arrangements is enough to encourage you to look at how they can be improved.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Did you know that you have a reputation amongst astrologers for being lazy? Actually, I think you are misunderstood. The fact is that at times like these you quite properly resent tasks which are beneath your dignity. You don't like to waste your talents. It's as simple as that.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Your partnerships are not always straightforward. This you know well enough. Your long-term task now is to simplify all family relationships, get down to essentials and strip away the waffle. You might have to wait while a partner gets their act together, though.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Given that you may have to delay decisive moves at home, you may still do your bit to improve your lot. Your strongest emotional contacts are with family members or people you live with and, if you recognise this simple fact, then a number of problems will disappear.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Do get on with plans, proposals and intuitive ideas. If you talk to people today you should find them sympathetic listeners, and this knowledge may encourage you to confide feelings you'd normally keep to yourself. But don't tell them anything that might cause embarrassment.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
The heavy hand of Saturn is now a semi-permanent influence on your life, but I must say that it is a very favourable one. It could bring eventual security, even though today you may have doubts over your financial future. You'll get your way through cautious and consistent planning.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Don't hang back or give way to a sudden attack of nerves. You have the chance to push yourself forward and it may be another four weeks before a similar opportunity comes your way. Remember all my past advice about the need to charm other people.

HC RETURNS SITE WITH HOUSE TO WIDOW, ORDERS COMPENSATION

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE@Bengaluru

DIRECTING the authorities not to disturb Nagamma, the widow of a manual scavenger who died while on duty, from possession of a plot having a house at Doddabelavangala, the Karnataka High Court on Thursday imposed Rs 50,000 cost on the principal secretary of the Department of Social Welfare, Bengaluru Rural deputy commissioner and panchayat development officer (PDO) of Doddabelavangala.

Directing officials to pay the cost jointly and severally to the petitioner, Nagamma, Justice M Nagaprasanna also directed the Doddabelavangala Grama Panchayat to pay her litigation expenses of Rs 50,000, saying the act of the panchayat took away the petitioner's right over the property, that was granted to her by the state, in response to the order passed by the court. The plot, with a house, was granted to her after she approached the court a second time. Her husband Narasimahaiah died in 2008 due to asphyxiation, after he was forced to go inside a manhole in Yelahanka, due to the negligence of the Bangalore Water Supply and Sewerage Board.

The judge also noted that the State, particularly the principal secretary and deputy commissioner, shall oversee that all benefits under Section 13 of the Prohibition of Employment as Manual Scavengers and their Rehabilitation Act, 2013, are conferred upon the petitioner and not drive her to another round of litigation. "Ergo, it is high time the haves stop despoiling the rights of have-nots; the haves, I mean, those who have power," the judge observed, passing the order on the petition filed by Nagamma.

The petitioner moved court as the site allotted to her in 2012, after she approached court, was taken back by the PDO for construction of a Nada Kacheri in 2022, saying she had not constructed a house on the site, despite the passage of nine years after allotment.

This was not made known to her. After she came to know, she was assured of an alternative site, but no site was allotted despite her giving a plethora of representations. She again approached court, ironically with the same writ petition number, after 11 years. The authorities allotted the plot during pendency of the petition.

RAJNATH, CM CANCEL VISIT, RETD DEFENCE PERSONNEL FUME

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

RETIRED defence personnel, war widows and members of the National Military Memorial committee expressed their ire for the second consecutive day on Thursday after Defence Minister Rajnath Singh, who was scheduled to visit the park on Millers Road and inaugurate the Veeragallu (war stone) on Wednesday, cancelled it.

The members were fuming after Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who was also invited, cancelled his visit in the last minute. Expressing their resentment, they said that the guests were supposed to arrive at 4.30 pm, the VIPs at 5.30 pm and the event was to conclude at 6.30 pm. They said they waited for the messages to be trickled down for nearly a hour-and-a-half of their cancellations.

Defence Ministry officials said that Singh was unable to attend the event after it was confirmed because because of a series of meetings for Aero India, which took time, and he had to rush back to New Delhi.

Singh had participated in Manthan and Bandhan meetings at Aero India on Wednesday. The retired officials said, "Shame on you Defence Minister. Is this the respect you have for the martyred soldiers? Around 22,000 names are etched on the black granite, and for you, they and the war widows mean nothing? You made a promise and you should not have cancelled it."

On Thursday, they decided to hold a committee meeting and decide on the next course of action. The Veeragallu (war stone) was carved out in Chikkaballapur eight years earlier and was brought to the park two years back. Citizens visit the park, but it has not been officially inaugurated.

Air Cdre (retd), MK Chandrashekar, member of NMM managing trust, told TNIE, "However, the same thing will be done after the names of 1,500 more war soldiers is etched on the black granite, that is pending, which will take another four-five months to complete. It was also proposed to name the location as Veera Bhoomi instead of Military Memorial."

Summer time: More young adults getting chickenpox

NAMRATA SINDWANI@ Bengaluru

CHICKENPOX cases are rising in Bengaluru as the city is transitioning from winter to summer. Though children are more susceptible to the disease, this year more young adults are getting infected, doctors said.

Dr Rajath Athreya, head of department, paediatrics and neonatology, Sakra World Hospital, said chickenpox cases usually rise during summer and since the weather is changing, patients with chickenpox are increasing. Over the last few weeks, every day one or two cases are coming to their hospital. This year, he is surprised to see more cases among young adults (20-30 years). This could be due to improved vaccine coverage among children, minimising infections and severity of the disease among them, he said.

Doctors have warned pregnant women to be more careful and take necessary precautions to avoid any complications during pregnancy. If women have infected people in their families, they should ensure social distance and avoid sharing the same linen and towels with the infected person.

Dr KS Harshith, Consultant, Internal medicines, (General Medicine), Aster RV Hospital, said, "We have seen 3-4 new cases in the hospital over the last 15 days. Patients are coming with symptoms of fever, loss of appetite, tiredness and irritations of the skin. They are put on antiviral drugs and told to isolate themselves for seven days. We have not observed many cases among children. Most of the infected are in the 18-25 age group."

Give tickets, get community support, Lingayats tell Congress

Community leaders meet in Bengaluru; In 2018, BJP fielded 67 Lingayats, Congress 43

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE Congress, which lost the support of Lingayats in the 1990s, will need to make some special overtures to the community and give more tickets to Lingayat candidates, was the thinking among Veerashaiva-Lingayat leaders who met in Bengaluru on Thursday.

At a meeting of sitting MLAs, former ministers and about 100 aspirants from the Veerashaiva-Lingayat community seeking Congress tickets for the polls, the community urged the party to accommodate more Lingayat candidates in the southern region. The meeting was chaired by Davanagere South MLA Shamanur Shivashankarappa, who is also president of the All India Veerashaiva Mahasabha.

The leaders urged Mohan Prakash, screening committee chairman, to give maximum representation to bring the community back into the Congress fold, as was the case before the unceremonious unseating of former CM Veerendra Patil. Their complaint was that in eight districts Chamarajanagar, Mandya, Mysuru, Hassan, Ramanagara, Bengaluru Urban, Bengaluru Rural, Chitradurga and Tumakuru there are about 40,000 Lingayat voters, and at one time there were about 20 Lingayat MLAs from these areas alone.

Once the Congress began neglecting the community, the decisive support for the party began to evaporate, and this is clearly visible in assembly elections results from 1957 to 2018. The group, which analysed the poll results, wrote to the Congress to say community leaders are ready to return. They also noted that over the years, 24 Lingayat MLAs lost out because of delimitation and reservation. They also reminded the party that in 2013, Lingayats supported the Congress and 26 Lingayat leaders got elected.

Political analyst B S Murthy noted, "Lingayats note that in eight districts of South Karnataka, the Congress used to field just one Lingayat, the late Mahadev Prasad. There was unhappiness that even for the Bengaluru corporation elections, the Congress chose just one or two Lingayat candidates in about 200 wards, which is grave injustice. If the Congress fields more Lingayats, it can rightfully ask the community for votes again.'' In 2018, BJP fielded 67 Lingayats while Congress fielded 43. "Lingayats are spread over 150 seats and can help any party win,'' Veerashaiva Mahasabha secretary Renuka Prasanna said.

Will not allow closure of VISL, says Bommai

ENS @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Thursday assured the Assembly that Visvesvaraya Iron and Steel Limited (VISL) in Bhadravathi will not be shut. This comes days after Union Minister for Steel Jyotiraditya Scindia informed the Rajya Sabha that the VISL will be closed will be closed due to unavailability of a captive iron ore mine, high cost and low volume of production due to obsolete technology, highly competitive alloy steel market and other factors.

Bommai said that the State Government will urge the Union Government to not close the plant. "We will call for expressions of interest from interested bidders to revive VISL. I have also spoken to steel industrialists... They were positive of reviving VISL. We will make all attempts to ensure that the plant is not shut," Bommai said, while replying to Bhadravathi MLA Sangamesh who raised the issue during the Zero Hour.

Former CM BS Yediyurappa too said that members cutting cross party lines do not want VISL to be shut. He urged Bommai to convince the Centre to not shut the unit.

Bommai said VISL is Karnataka's pride and is the first steel plant in South India. "The quality of steel produced here is good... Several attempts were made in the past to revive it," Bommai elaborated, saying he has written to Scindia in this regard.

ASHWATH'S 'FINISH OFF SIDDU' REMARK ROCKS ASSEMBLY

Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan makes a point in the Assembly on Thursday | EXPRESS

HIGHER Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan's "finish off Siddaramaiah" remark created a furore in the Assembly on Thursday as the opposition Congress demanded action against the minister as well as an apology from him.

It all started when Congress MLA UT Khader raised the issue on hate speech during Zero Hour. During his speech, he said there has been hate speeches for the last many days at various places across the state. Pointing out to Minister Ashwath Narayan's remark, Khader said the minister made the statement as he was not able to digest Siddaramiah's popularity. "How can a minister say "finish off Siddaramaiah just like Tipu Sultan. These BJP leaders do not know history. We condemn his statement. Action should be taken against the minister as even the Supreme Court has said that in case of any hate speech, a case can be filed suo moto. If you take action against the minister, it will send a message to the entire society," he said.

Even as the Congress members were demanding apology from the minister, Ashwath Narayan said he compared Siddaramiah with Tipu because of his love for him. "Tipu murdered hundreds of people. Congress is glorifying him which is not good. My statement of 'finish off' is to tell people not to vote for Congress and finish them in the polls. Personally, I do not have any differences with Siddaramaiah, but I regret what I said," he said.

Also, during a heated argument, Speaker Vishveshwara Hegde Kageri slammed Congress MLA Eshwar Khandre when he refused to sit despite repeated orders. "People like you are a shame to the House", Kageri told Khandre. "Should we come and tell your voters what kind of MLA they have voted and sent here," he said. Irked by this, Khandre and other Congress MLAs created a ruckus.

SIDDARAMAIAH WANTS ASHWATH DROPPED FROM BOMMAI CABINET

HUBBALLI: Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah has urged Governor Thaawarchand Gehlot to sack Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan from the Cabinet. Addressing the media here on Wednesday, Siddaramaiah said the minister's statement was offensive and legal action can be initiated against him. "The police should take up a suo motu case. Let Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Home Minister Amit Shah say whether what the minister has said is right or wrong," the former CM said. Lashing out at BJP, he said: "It is BJP's culture to resort to violence... they killed Mahatma Gandhi. BJP wants to polarise the society. Let them make it clear in their manifesto if they want to fight the polls on Tippu and Savarkar." Akhila Bharata Siddaramaiah Abhimanigala Sangha president Girish Gadigeppagoudar has filed a complaint with the Gokul Road police in Hubballi against Ashwath. In the complaint, Gadigeppagoudar urged the police to file an FIR and demanded the immediate arrest of the minister. Gadigeppagoudar, who is also a local Congress leader, said he has submitted the complaint to the police and the police should register an FIR against the minister for his insinuating remarks against their leader. If the police fail to register the FIR, an agitation would be launched, he warned. Meanwhile, the police said that they are in touch with the police in Mandya to check if they have registered an FIR there. ENS

Kagwad MLA pays ₹3.5cr to complete lift irrigation project, Cong slams move

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Belagavi

LEGISLATORS are leaving no stone unturned to woo voters ahead of the Assembly elections. In a fresh case, Kagwad BJP MLA Shrimant Patil gave away a cheque of Rs 3.50 crore to the contractors of Irrigation Department for completion of the Basaveshwar Lift Irrigation Project being implemented in his constituency.

He handed over the cheque on behalf of Athani Sugars, a factory he owns, to contractor Yukta Electricals, which is taking up electrical work under the Basaveshwar Lift Irrigation Project. According to Patil, the project will be launched by Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in the first week of March before the election code of conduct comes into force. One of the biggest lift irrigation projects in Karnataka, the project was launched by Siddaramaiah after he became CM. He had said that the project would be ready in 36 months. However, the government changed and the project was moving at a snail's pace.

Under pressure from people, Shrimant Patil had stated in December last year that the project would be completed and that Bommai would inaugurate it in December. When the project could not be inaugurated in December, Patil later said that it would be inaugurated in February. However, it is unlikely that the project would be ready before the polls, informed sources said. The election code of conduct would be in force once the notification for the polls is issued by the Election Commission of India and it will not be possible to inaugurate the project then, sources added.

While several leaders appreciated the gesture of Patil, many have slammed him. A potential Congress candidate from Kagwad, Raju Kage, also a former MLA, has hit out at the State Government for making MLA Patil pay Rs 3.5 crore for the project and said: "The government has gone bankrupt and that was why the MLA has funded the project."

"After keeping silent for so many years without expediting the irrigation project, the MLA is hastily trying to get the project completed when the elections are approaching. How is it possible to complete such a mega project in a hurry?'' another Congress leader questioned.

The project will irrigate 67,462 acres in 22 drought-prone areas of Kagwad constituency. Rs 1363.48 crore is being spent on the project under which a 55-km canal has been constructed to draw water to the fields.

Law minister's 'barking' remark creates uproar

The House witnessed a turmoil when Law and Parliamentary Affairs Minister JC Madhu Swamy used an unparliamentary word "bogalu" (barking) which was allegedly aimed at the JDS. Objecting to it, JDS MLAs led by MLA Raveendra Srikantaiah staged a protest in the well of the House demanding that the word be expunged from the House records.

'Govt hand-in-glove with land grabbers'

Congress MLA Krishna Byregowda alleged that the government is hand-in-glove with private parties in grabbing govt lands. "Government has allowed officials to loot by re-granting lands recovered from grabbers to private parties near Kempegowda International Airport", he said. When he said "chowkidars have become chors", Urban Development Minister Byrati Basavaraju objected to it.

Lack of quorum, govt faces embarrassment

The government faced an embarrassment in the Assembly as bills on the six proposed private varsities could not be taken up for a debate due to lack of quorum as only 13 members were present. The Speaker deferred the debate on the bills pertaining to the Kishkinda University (Ballari), Acharya University, GM University (Davangere), Sapthagiri NPS University, T John University and Rajya Vokkaligara Sangha University for Monday.

Godrej Aerospace plans ₹500 cr facility for defence business

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE
@ Bengaluru

GODREJ Aerospace, a division of Godrej and Boyce, is investing around Rs 500 crore in a new manufacturing facility at Khalapur, located about 70km from Mumbai. This greenfield project, spread out on 100 acres of land, is anticipated to be completed within three years, and will be devoted to the defence and aerospace markets, the company said.

Godrej Aerospace AVP and business head Maneck Behramkamdin told TNIE that the investment will largely be towards establishing infrastructure and machinery, among other things.

In September 2022, Godrej Aerospace won an order to manufacture eight modules for a DRDO engine. "It's a Kaveri derivative engine – a 48 kN dry engine without an afterburner – for which we have the order to manufacture eight modules. As we speak, we are in the advanced stages of making the modules and getting into actual manufacturing," Behramkamdin said. It is learnt that the engine will be used in some autonomous air vehicles. "The design is according to the GTRE (Gas Turbine Research Establishment). We will manufacture the modules with our ecosystem partners. All processing, tooling and engineering will be done by Godrej. These engines would be delivered by late 2023 or early 2024," he added.

Godrej has been a major contributor to the country's aerospace story. It has been manufacturing engines for space. Godrej Aerospace has been partnering with ISRO for over 30 years to manufacture complex systems such as liquid propulsion engines for PSLV and GSLV rockets, thrusters for satellites, and antenna systems. The company has also played an integral part in the Chandrayaan and Mangalyaan missions. "With our consortium partner MTAR, we have delivered around 220 (Vikas) engines to ISRO. We have also delivered a good number of cryogenic engines," Behramkamdin said.

Elaborating on the company's other plans, he said, "We have been in the business of manufacturing the airframe for BrahMos for more than 20 years. We continue in that direction in the realm of airframes, mechanical systems, pneumatic systems, hydraulic systems, actuators for the LCA, and our foray into engines."

"Today, we work for companies like Rolls-Royce and Safran for commercial aircraft... With the Kaveri engines, we want to gain experience and partner into modules. We want to go up in the value-chain... We are also getting into new categories, such as crash-worthy seating for helicopters and aircraft. Our focus is on missile systems, airframes and engines, among others," he concluded.

Stalls by wives of IAF, HAL personnel a crowd-puller

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

OF the many stalls at Aero India 2023, the most sought after are the ones set up by the wives of India Air Force and Hindustan Aeronautics Ltd (HAL) personnel.

From handmade candles, colourful bottles and spices to getting items from various small scale industries to support the 'Make In India' concept, they have spent the last few days at Aero India selling several products to support the forces. Speaking to TNIE, Dr Deep Rekha, wife of a doctor at HAL as well as a volunteer for the HAL Family Welfare Association, said that the response has been overwhelming. "The response has been wonderful... Everyone is appreciating us. We are also surprised that many are unaware that HAL runs a family welfare association," she added.

The scene is similar at the stall run by the Air Force Wives' Welfare Association (AFWWA). "The 'Sangini' corner consists of several handmade items that are all made by us. We take the opportunity to put out stalls like these during Diwali, Air Force Day and other occasions to raise money. We also have a thrift shop within the campus as well," said Alpana Srivastava, an AFWWA volunteer and wife of an Air Force Senior Medical Officer. The corner is dedicated entirely towards handmade products like decorative bottles, jewellery and handmade candles.

"We are promoting the 'Make in India' initiative... We have wooden toys from Channapatna. We are trying to promote smaller artisans to help encourage them. We also have small vendors from other states like West Bengal. Meanwhile, we also have our own masala items which are homemade and freshly ground," Dr Deep told TNIE.

ATC team breathes sigh of relief as show comes to a close

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

BEHIND the sleek machines blazing through the skies, performing precision manoeuvres and coordinating with fleets, is a team which ensures that nothing goes wrong. Perched in the Air Traffic Centre (ATC), this team is on the edge as the displays wow the public at Aero India.

Squadron Leader Angel Datta, one of the senior-most squadron leaders on the team of 12 at the ATC, told TNIE that it's been a good feeling commanding the team, but it's also been a stressful few days. "The team has to ensure that nothing goes wrong during startup, takeoff and landing. We must remain focussed at all times, it's not a job where we can get distracted for even a second," she said.

The 12 team members have been working round the clock in shifts of six to eight hours for the past few days, ensuring that no one's safety is compromised during Aero India. "It's good to be able to see the manoeuvres by various teams. Aero India is especially interesting, as we get to watch manoeuvres by foreign aircraft as well," she said.

So far, the sailing has been smooth for the crew, with no accidents during the five-day airshow. "I've helped command the teams for the past four years, and have been on the ATC team for Aero India since 2015. It's very stressful, the hardest part is the long hours we have to remain vigilant. Thankfully, Aero India has been free of accidents, and I hope it remains that way," she said.

With ₹5.5L cr debt, CM will have to be cautious with freebies

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

RUN-UP TO BUDGET 2023-24

AHEAD of Budget 2023, experts are pointing out that Karnataka needs to tread cautiously on the issue of debt. During the last budget, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai had promised to bring down the size of debt, but debt burden is now almost Rs 5.45 lakh crore.

Former member of the National Finance Commission, Professor Govind Rao said, "The debt-GSDP (Gross Domestic Product) ratio needs to come down, or a large portion of revenue will go towards servicing the debt."

Considering polls are round the corner, any government will be looking to get elected, he said. "Another issue the government should consider is whether it has to run businesses or run the government, for example, the government is running businesses like a soap factory or silk factory. Karnataka is among the states enjoying the highest per capita income in India, leaving out small states like Goa or Sikkim, and while capital income declined across the country, it did not drop in Karnataka,'' he said.

Any loan will burden the common man because in the end, a loan needs to be serviced, opposition leader in the Council BK Hariprasad said. "The government needs to be cautious while announcing freebies in the budget. The Centre's treatment of Karnataka is stepmotherly -- while Uttar Pradesh's contribution to the Union is much smaller, what it receives is much higher proportionally, as compared to Karnataka, which contributes so much more revenue. The budget needs to address all these issues."

With this attitude, the future will be difficult, former CM HD Kumaraswamy said. "Debt of Rs 5.5 lakh crore overburdens the government. If a government takes a loan and uses the amount to build capital assets, it is okay, but if the amount is used to finance different yojanas yielding 30%-40% commission, it is sad. In any case, this budget is of no value because the government's term is ending," he said.

If borrowing increases, it means resources have to be diverted from productive welfare schemes to paying debts, Prof Subhashini Muthukrishnan said. "If the state is going to borrow more, it means dependence on indirect taxes will be more regressive, and the burden will fall on the poor. Effective devolution of finances could be one answer, otherwise states could be forced to borrow.''

I do not wish to contest for CWC: Tharoor

CYNTHIA CHANDRAN @ T'Puram

SENIOR leader Shashi Tharoor on Thursday has made it clear that he will not contest in the Congress Working Committee election. Instead, he urged his party colleagues to contest.

With Tharoor making his stand clear, the ball is now in the court of the Congress central leadership. Only a week remains for the CWC meeting in Raipur. Three senior MPs from the state have already rooted for Tharoor to be included in the CWC. A few other leaders from other parts of the country are also expected to come forth in his favour.

With this, the cry to include him in the party's highest decision-making body has been gathering momentum.

Meanwhile, Tharoor told TNIE that since he has already contested in the party presidential election, he is not keen to contest for other positions. "After contesting the Presidency, I don't think I should contest for other positions", Tharoor said.

However, leaders pointed out that there had been instances in the past where leaders, who had contested in the presidential elections, were included in the working committee through elections.

"In 1997, the party witnessed a triangular contest between Sitaram Kesri, Maratha supremo Sharad Pawar and Rajesh Pilot. Even though Kesri won, the other two contested in the CWC and emerged victorious. In 1977, when Indira Gandhi nominated Brahmananda Reddy's name, Siddhartha Shankar Ray, Karan Singh and Neki Ram contested against him. But when Reddy proposed Ray's name to the CWC, he declined," said a senior leader.

After weeks of suspense, Tharoor's open announcement on Thursday has caught leaders by surprise.

There still needs to be more clarity on whether the CWC meeting at Raipur during February 24-26 will have elections.

According to a senior Congress MP, election to CWC will be a lengthy process.

'DREAM BIGGER'

FM tells KCR not to crack jokes on $5tn economy

Says he should clear Telangana's debts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Hyderabad

WITH folded hands, Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday requested Chief Minister K Chandrashekhar Rao to not crack any jokes about Prime Minister Narendra Modi's goal to make India a $5 trillion economy.

Terming Rao's remarks as silly, Sitharaman, while addressing a session on the Union Budget in Hyderabad, said the chief minister should clear the State's debts, which increased from ₹60,000 crore in 2014 to ₹3 lakh crore, before cracking such jokes. Since he is the elected head of the State government, he should keep his position in mind and speak responsibly, she added.

The chief minister, while addressing the Assembly on Sunday, had dubbed the PM's ambitious goal as a joke and added that the target was too less while suggesting that "we should dare to dream bigger".

Later, the finance minister also brought up the issue of the sanction of medical colleges in the State. Since 2014, the Centre has established 157 medical colleges and is also setting up nursing institutions.

"Before the setting up of the medical colleges, the Centre had asked the Telangana government to send the names of districts which don't have any medical colleges. In response, the State proposed Karimnagar and Khammam, which already have such institutions. The State government, itself, doesn't have proper data about medical colleges but is complaining that the Centre is not sanctioning medical or nursing colleges in Telangana," she said.

Sitharaman informed that the grants-in-aid from the Centre to the State government since 2014 has been ₹1.39 lakh crore. "With regards to railway infrastructure, the Centre has allotted ₹4,418 crore in the 2023-24 Budget, while in 2022-23 Budget, ₹3,048 crore was allotted. A Centre of Excellence will also be developed at the Indian Institute of Millets Research (IIMR), Hyderabad," she mentioned.

The union minister also announced a one-time new small savings scheme, Mahila Samman Savings Certificate. Under the initiative, people can deposit upto ₹2 lakh in the name of women or girls for two years at a fixed interest rate of 7.5 per cent with a partial withdrawal option, she added.

Earlier in the day, Sitharaman participated in post budgetary session with trade, industry and commerce stakeholders. At the event, she said that revamped credit guarantee scheme for MSMEs, proposed in the previous Budget, will take effect from April 1 through an infusion of ₹9,000 crore in the corpus, which will enable additional collateral-free guaranteed credit of ₹2 lakh crore.

Over 200 vehicles gutted after a massive fire broke out at the police dumping yard at Vellarampara near Taliparamba in Kannur on Thursday morning

Fire and Rescue Services personnel with the support of police and local residents doused the fire after a five-hour mission

Exact cause of the fire yet to be ascertained. It is suspected that waste and dry grass caught fire first and later, it spread to the seized vehicles

Explosion of vehicles' fuel tanks prevented the firemen from carrying out their job at ease

Following explosions, traffic through state highway near the yard rerouted

Apart from the fire tenders, two water tankers in the area were also pressed into service. Only a few seized vehicles in the yard could be saved

Couple carry dead baby on bike for 100km

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Visakhapatnam

A shocking video of a grieving couple emerged carrying their 14-day-old baby's dead body for over 100 km on a two-wheeler from King George Hospital (KGH) in Visakhapatnam to Paderu after they were allegedly denied an ambulance service by the staff on Thursday.

The deceased infant, who was born in Paderu on February 2, had been brought to KGH with a condition called 'perinatal asphyxia'. The infant was on ventilator support till she breathed her last early on Thursday. The parents alleged that the KGH staff cited that there was a lack of ambulances in the hospital.

After riding pillion with the baby's body for such a long stretch, an ambulance was arranged in Paderu to their native village at Kumada in Alluri Sitarama Raju district.

However, Superintendent of KGH Dr Ashok Kumar said that the ambulance service was delayed but not denied. "Had the family waited for a few more minutes, we would definitely have provided them with an ambulance. The baby died at 7:50 am and the entire handover process got over at 8:30 am. We informed the Tribal cell within 10 minutes to arrange the ambulance. But the couple rushed the baby's body before the ambulance could have reached the block. Ambulance was arranged at around 9:15 am. We, immediately, informed the DMHO and ITDA PO of Paderu about the incident. The staff traced them and got an ambulance arranged," he said.

ED PROOF CITING KERALA CM GIVES LIFE MISSION CASE A NEW DIMENSION

ARUN M @Kochi

PUTTING Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan on the back foot, WhatsApp messages -- which also cite the CM -- between his former principal secretary M Sivasankar and Swapna Suresh were used as major evidence in the Wadakkanchery LIFE Mission corruption case.

According to one of the conversations, reproduced by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in its remand report, Sivasankar told Swapna, an accused in the gold smuggling case, that the CM had asked him to get a job for her after she had quit her job as secretary to the consul general at the UAE consulate in Thiruvananthapuram. "CM had asked me to get u a job. But that will be low profile; though the salary will be double," it read.

When questioned, Sivasankar reportedly told ED that Swapna was prone to mood swings and she was getting worried about losing her job, and that he was just trying to console her.

At the same time, he admitted that she was a high-profile person known to almost everyone and that he had briefed the CM after she was selected by PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC) for the Space Park project.

"From the material evidence, such as the WhatsApp conversation between (Smt) Swapna Suresh and (Shri) Sivasankar and the statement given by (Smt) Swapna Suresh, it is clearly indicating that there is a larger nexus involving government representatives in the allocation of contract and generation of proceeds of crime via the upfront commission as a bribe," the remand report said.

Sivasankar, who retired from service recently, was arrested by the ED on Tuesday night and remanded to its custody for five days, till February 20. With the CM being cited in the remand report, the case has taken on a new dimension.

The ED produced the extract of the WhatsApp chat in the remand report before the Special Court for Prevention of Money Laundering Act Cases.

In his WhatsApp message, on July 31, 2019, a day before the alleged handing over of the kickback linked to the LIFE Mission, Sivasankar told Swapna not to get involved and warned her that if something goes wrong, she would be blamed.

10 NABBED IN K'TAKA, GUJ, HARYANA IN ATM LOOT CASE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Tiruvannamalai

IN a major breakthrough in the Tiruvannamalai burglary case where ₹70 lakh was looted from four ATMs in one night on Sunday, special investigation teams of the Tamil Nadu state police have secured 10 suspects in Karnataka, Haryana, and Gujarat.

Speaking to reporters in Tiruvannamalai on Thursday, IG-North N Kannan said, "The burglary was committed by a Haryana-based gang. Based on investigation, we found that before looting the ATMs, the burglars stayed in a hotel in Kolar district in Karnataka and carried out a recce in Tiruvannamalai. The special police teams have zeroed in on two suspects in Kolar district in Karnataka, six in Gujarat, and two in Haryana."

The two suspects caught in Haryana, after the burglary in Tiruvannamalai, fled to Kolar and from there to Bengaluru by road. From Bengaluru, they took a flight to Haryana. Investigation is still on and we have collected some 'irrefutable evidence' about their involvement, Kannan said. Some of those nabbed have pending criminal cases against them, the IG said. Kannan said the burglars don't seem to have any local connection in Tamil Nadu. But since they stayed in Kolar, there are chances they might have some connections there, he said. The officer said the operation is being carried out with the support of local police of the respective states.

We nabbed some of the suspects even before they reached their hometowns. We will soon disclose their identities. The whereabouts of the looted cash is still under investigation, he said.

After looting four ATMs in Tiruvannamalai on Sunday, the gang fled in a car bearing Andhra Pradesh registration number. The gang skipped main roads to avoid getting caught on CCTV cameras.

While the TN police team to Haryana is led by Tiruvannamalai SP K Karthikeyan, Vellore SP S Rajesh Kannan is leading the Gujarat team and Tirupathur SP K Balla Krisshan is leading the team to Karnataka.

We nabbed some of the suspects even before they reached their hometowns. We will soon disclose their identities. The whereabouts of the looted cash is still under investigation, he said.

Dr Govindaraj is 1st Indian prez of FIBA Asia

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DR K Govindaraj has been nominated as FIBA (Fédération Internationale de Basketball) Asia president, becoming the first Indian to attain the post.

He is currently president of the Basketball Federation of India and member of the Karnataka Legislative Council. He is expected to take over as FIBA Asia president in a few weeks. The decision was taken unanimously by the 44 federations under FIBA Asia.

Dr Govindaraj said it is an honour to take over the post. He has been working in the field of basketball since the last 50 years, making efforts to ensure that basketball as a sport is given the importance it deserves in India. He plans to showcase India's competence and capability in basketball by organising more international events in the country and also producing the best Indian players.

Dr Govindaraj also informed that the FIBA World Cup 2023 Asian Qualifiers (Window-6) is scheduled to be held in Bengaluru from February 22-28. The Indian senior men's basketball team will play their last window home games against Jordan and Saudi Arabia. According to the schedule, India will play against Jordan on February 24 and against Saudi Arabia on February 27.

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

CREATING INVESTMENT CLIMATE IN AGRARIAN ANDHRA PRADESH

One of the oft-repeated criticisms against the Jagan Mohan Reddy government in Andhra Pradesh is that it is disinterested in developing the state as an industrial and tech hub. It is a narrative that the opposition TDP, BJP and others have been taking forward, but if we separate the wheat from the chaff, as is usually the case, the truth is somewhere in between. It is a fact that the Jagan government has invested heavily in welfare schemes, health and education sectors. Nonetheless, it is also true that the state has been consistently ranked number 1 in ease of doing business and recorded an appreciable growth rate barring the Covid bump.

On the flip side, the government hadn't been as aggressive in reaching out to potential investors in contrast to the earlier regime of N Chandrababu Naidu, who was adept at marketing and held several CII Partnership Summits. For various reasons, not least his insistence on Amaravati as capital, the former chief minister couldn't repeat his Hyderabad success story in Andhra. However, to give credit where it is due, he did try.

Andhra Pradesh, after the creation of Telangana, has primarily been reduced to an agrarian economy with agriculture and allied activities, MSMEs and the self-employed driving its growth. The Jagan government has rightly focused on these sectors first, which proved especially fruitful in coping with the Covid-induced economic downturn. It is now making an aggressive pitch to project Andhra as an ideal investment destination. Even if a bit belated, this is the right time to move as the economy is picking up.

Andhra Pradesh, with its 974-km long coastline, six ports, skilled talent pool, three industrial corridors and a vast land bank, is better placed to take a giant leap forward. It is good that the Jagan government is organising its first Global Investors' Summit in Vizag on March 3 and 4 and is leaving no stone unturned to showcase the state's potential, particularly that of the Steel City, to the who is who in the business world. Visakhapatnam, which the government wants to be the executive capital, is the one major city in Andhra that can grow by leaps and bounds. However, as one swallow cannot make a summer, the government must build on the existing ecosystem for manufacturing industries, tech companies and others. If it does, the state will see Hyderabad not as a lost jewel but as a competitor.

KEEP PROMISE, ENSURE LAND FOR KERALA TRIBALS

The 2003 Muthanga agitation was a milestone in Kerala tribals' struggle for their rights, and the violence it culminated in should be considered one of the darkest episodes in the state's sociopolitical history. The agitation for land rights during which the tribals, led by their leaders like C K Janu, an uneducated woman born to slave parents, occupied plantations in Wayanad district, took a violent turn on February 19, 2003, when the state chose to use its muscle power to silence the voices of anguish and protest. The resultant police action claimed the lives of two people—a policeman and a tribal leader—and hundreds were injured. Though the agitation failed to achieve its goal, it succeeded in bringing the issues faced by the community under the national glare.

The struggle of the adivasis, who constitute about 1.5% of the state's population, for land rights, is a story of betrayal by successive governments. In the early decades of the 20th century, farmers from central Travancore migrated to the hill ranges of Idukki and Malabar. They deceitfully acquired lands from tribals by wooing their men with alcohol and tobacco.

Though the government enacted the Kerala Scheduled Tribes Restriction on Transfer of Land and Restoration of Alienated Land Act in 1975, the implementation was lax. By 1991, around 53,000 tribal families had lost their land holdings, which prompted the Adivasi Gothra Maha Sabha to launch a struggle. In 2001, the A K Antony-led UDF government agreed to provide one to five acres of land to tribal families. But the project lost steam under the influence of settlers and other vested interests. Out of frustration due to constant betrayal, 800 tribal families occupied three plantations in the Muthanga forest area in Wayanad in 2003.

Two decades on, the plight of the tribals remains the same. Though around 35,000 families have been provided land, they cannot avail of any government benefits, including compensation for crop loss and loans, as they have not been provided with title deeds. It is a fact that the tribals have been subjected to exploitation for centuries, and we now need concrete steps to correct the wrongs done to them. Justice delayed is certainly justice denied in this case. It is high time the government ensured that the tribals could live dignified lives preserving their tradition and culture. Providing them with long-promised land with full ownership rights is the least it can do.

QUICK TAKE

CASTE BIAS ON CAMPUSES

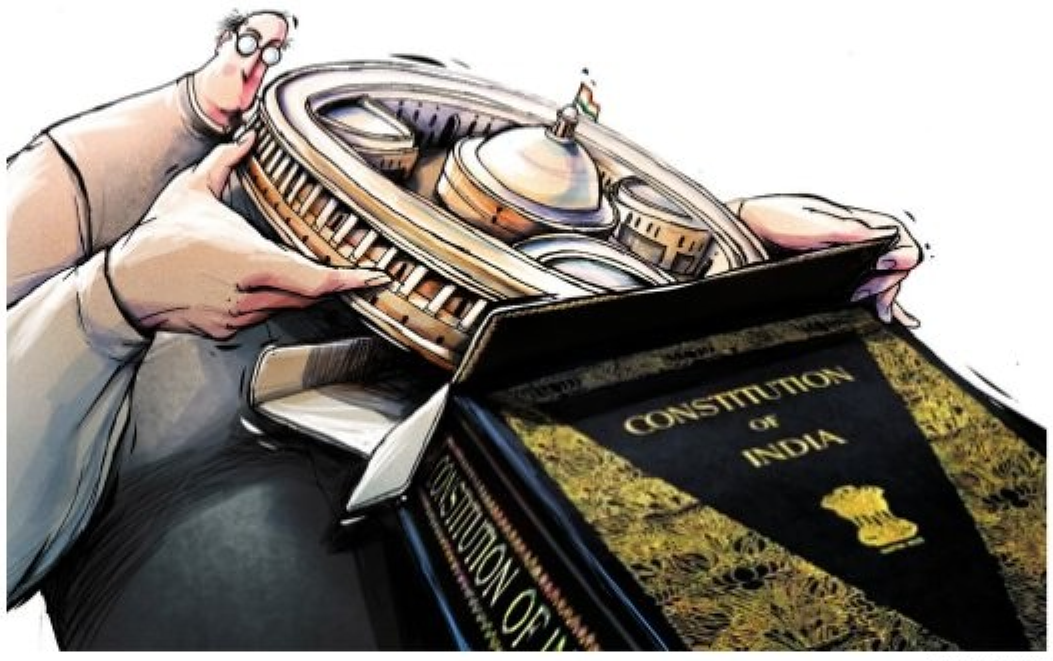
Constant taunts about his lower caste status possibly forced an IIT-Mumbai student to kill himself recently. His family insists so. The IIT refutes any discrimination. It must do better than that. The denial when the probe is on shows an ostrich-like attitude. Scores of students in elite educational institutes like IITs and central universities have died by suicide in recent years—a worrying trend. The higher the aspirations of the underprivileged to do well in life, the greater their sensitivity to exclusion. The absence of institutional help for social and academic parity frustrates them to the point of no return.

Since Kesavananda Bharati, the SC has been filling a vacuum in India's basic law with a sense of pragmatism

'BASIC STRUCTURE' AS DEMOCRATIC DEFENCE

KALEESWARAM RAJ

Lawyer, Supreme Court of India



SOUMYADIP SINHA

Renowned German Professor Dietrich Conrad travelled to India in 1965. He lectured at the Banaras Hindu University on certain facets of the Constitution, which are inalienable, unalterable, and non-negotiable. The professor spoke about the constitutional limitation to the process of lawmaking. He indicated that Parliament cannot change the Constitution's basic features by way of an amendment.

Article 368 of the Indian Constitution talks about the power of Parliament to amend the Constitution. It also lays down the procedure. It does not, however, say if this power is unlimited or if there are implied limitations to the legislative ambitions. This required a judicial resolution. Initially, in Golaknath v. State of Punjab (1967), the Supreme Court said that the fundamental rights under Part III of the Constitution cannot be curtailed through an amendment. It was an 11-judge bench judgment. Later, in Kesavananda Bharati v. State of Kerala (1973), a 13-judge bench of the Supreme Court endorsed the power to amend without altering the basic features of the Constitution. Thus, the German professor's notions eventually got judicial recognition in India.

The doctrine has its admirers as well as opponents. It is unsafe to insist on a perpetual resolution or a final answer to this controversy. Depending upon the political context and the ground realities, the elastic idea of basic structure can manifest in varied ways.

The vice president of India recently questioned the doctrine of the basic structure of the Constitution. On the other hand, the Chief Justice of India said that it guides the nation like a North Star. The vice president, thereafter, reiterated that Parliament is the North Star of democracy. We have thus revived the conventional debate on the issue.

This time, the diametrically opposite views have emanated from those at the helm of affairs. The Indian experience, as well as the global scenario, compels one to support the views of the CJI. The vice president's emphasis on the supremacy of Parliament itself is a questionable assumption. The Constitution does not envisage it.

Many think that the Indian democracy had a narrow escape when the Supreme Court evolved the doctrine in Kesavananda Bharati. The majority of the judges held that Parliament cannot amend the Constitution by altering its basic structure. The Court said so by a 7:6 majority. Six judges in Kesavananda Bharati clearly endorsed the idea, while six others rejected it. The judgment by the remaining judge, Justice H R Khanna, is yet treated as part of the majority opinion, though some kind of ambivalence is attributed to him by certain scholars. Justice Khanna said that "the words 'amendment of the Constitution' with all their wide sweep and amplitude cannot have the effect of destroying or abrogating the basic structure or framework of the Constitution". The order sheet of the Court said that Justice Khanna was part of the seven judges who imposed limitations on Parliament's constituent power.

Later, in Indira Gandhi v. Raj Narain (1975), Justice Khanna himself clarified that he was with the majority. This case also was a reassertion of the principle. Later on, the apex court reaffirmed the doctrine in cases like Minerva Mills (1980) and Waman Rao (1980).

The doctrine of basic structure, no doubt, helped us maintain certain principles, some of which are generally accepted and others which are debated. The basic structure is an amalgamation of several concepts. It is an abbreviation of our constitutional philosophy that offers a conceptual foundation against totalitarianism. The supremacy of the Constitution, sovereignty of the nation, the rule of law, separation of powers, independence of the judiciary, judicial review, federalism, and many such principles were held as part of the basic structure. Different judges, in subsequent cases, supplemented the idea and expanded the doctrine.

That the phrase 'basic structure' is not specifically mentioned or defined in the Constitution does not diminish its value. The Constitution needs stability to provide a set of intrinsic values or at least a collection of values which are supposed to guide the nation. It is not like an election manifesto.

Since Kesavananda Bharati, the Supreme Court has been filling a vacuum in India's basic law with a sense of pragmatism. We do not have an eternity clause in the Constitution as it occurs in some other jurisdictions. Article 79(3) of the German Constitution indicates that an amendment altering the essential feature of the 'Basic Law' is impermissible. Even those who advocated for parliamentary sovereignty and opposed the basic structure doctrine had to alter their priorities later, in the changed times.

It is significant to note that in a first-past-the-post voting system, even when most people voted against a government, there could be a clear majority for the government in Parliament. This is an Indian reality. Though this is a topic for another discourse, the current electoral system in India seriously questions the legitimacy of the majoritarian claims.

Even otherwise, the basic structure doctrine might embarrass majoritarianism propelled by individuals or militant organisations. There was a conscious attempt to review the verdict in Kesavananda Bharati and thereby revive the unlimited power of Parliament. It was during the dark days of Emergency. Even a 13-judge bench was constituted. Arguments were heard for a couple of days. Many felt that the obvious intent of the move was to revive the absolute authority of Parliament. For reasons not known clearly, the bench did not proceed with the case further.

In Parliament on October 27, 1976, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi openly criticised the doctrine of basic structure. As we know, the doctrine, on its own, could not end the proclamation or continuation of Emergency. The institutions, including the judiciary, failed, and India remained under a dictatorship, despite the Constitution and its basic structure. The makers of the Constitution did not want this to happen.

The present controversy, in a way, is a historical reminder. The Constitution can survive only when there is political and ideological support from its institutions and the people at large. The basic structure is an institutional assertion against aggrandising majoritarianism if we are prepared to learn from the errors of the bygone days.

SECTION 377 SCRAPPED, BUT LGBTQIA+ AWAITS ACCEPTANCE

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE

Consultant Psychiatrist, APOLLO Multispecialty Hospitals, Kolkata

DR MAYANK RAI

Assistant Professor, Shridev Suman Subharti Medical College, Dehradun

June is observed as Pride Month in many countries, including India, in commemoration of the Stonewall riots of 1969. These occasions provide an appropriate socio-political platform for members of the sexual minority to gather, celebrate and voice their demands that need to reach the masses and the policymakers. Pride Day is a platform for lived narratives and voices of their struggle.

The LGBTQIA+ (lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, queer, intersex, asexual) movement is a pretty recent phenomenon in India's history, culminating in the historic decriminalisation of Section 377 that gave homosexuality a criminal status.

The dreary law which was set in colonial ink had finally reached its expiry date and millions of closeted and out-in-the-open members felt a collective loosening of the noose around their necks. Now they could breathe and feel alive again—at least in the eyes of the judiciary. But the social and moral compasses of society were still vehemently pointing their incriminating and disparaging fingers at them. They were like pardoned convicts: freed by the law but castigated by their society, to whom they were still reprobates.

Mentions of homosexual dimensions of life form a part of essential Hindu canonical works like the Rig Veda. There are chapters on homoerotic behaviour in Vatsyayana's Kamasutra and Kautilya's Arthasastra. There are portrayals of homosexual behaviour in the carvings of the famous Khajuraho temples.

Indian mythology is rife with such stories. Arjuna—the hero of the Mahabharata—was transformed into Brihannala due to Urvashi's curse. Shikhandi, the sibling of Draupadi, was a eunuch who fought in the Battle of Kurukshetra and was instrumental in bringing down the mighty warrior Bhishma. This swung the battle decisively in the favour of the Pandavas, thereby ensuring the reign of truth and justice. Some sources state that there were courtiers in the abode of Lord Indra called "kinnars", who were eunuchs and considered to be adept at the performing arts.

Such narratives are portrayed on various historical monuments and temples, which are a matter of study interest and candid photography. Yet, this is stigmatised by society when it comes to sexuality.

Along came the British Raj to India. Section 377 was drafted by Thomas Babington Macaulay in 1862. Macaulay was the head of the Law Commission and was installing anti-sodomy laws that criminalised any form of sexual activity that was "against the order of nature", punishable by law and carried a life sentence. During the 157 years of Section 377, the LGBTQIA+ community in India has suffered terribly. Clearly, the colonial hangover is still furthering our harsh and unfair treatment towards this community, which is in stark contrast to our cultural and spiritual ethos.

Even in this era of scientific pragmatism and logical empiricism, we see society's refusal to acknowledge the LGBTQIA+ community on par with the "heteronormals" and it continues to dehumanise and ostracise them like they are a bunch of moral and sexual outcasts.

The colonial hangover is still furthering our harsh and unfair treatment towards this community, which is in stark contrast to our cultural and spiritual ethos

Even after the decriminalisation of Section 377, the paths of the members of this community are beset with roadblocks. Problems of sexual abuse, familial dysfunction, peer rejection, juvenile delinquency, societal taboo, sexual disharmony, unsafe sexual behaviour and drug abuse are rampant amongst this community while growing up. The adult life doesn't offer any soothing escape from the harsh adolescence either. Unrecognised marital status, hazards of adoption, housing, property inheritance, difficulty finding regular employment, discrimination and harassment at the workplace, etc., are recurring and diabolical features of their daily lives. The mental and physical consequences of these prejudices take a gargantuan toll on their lives. Ageism and sexual discrimination are other hassles.

Increasing evidence points out that depression, suicides, self-harm and substance abuse are twice as common in LGBTQIA+ individuals compared to heterosexual people.

And this is without taking into account the familial disruption and caregiver stress that is trapped under the rubble of such issues. Even healthcare professionals and institutes show alarmingly high rates of homophobic bias and discriminatory attitudes towards these individuals in line with the heteronormativity principle that unfortunately guides their viewpoints. Mental health issues, already a matter of stigma in our country, get further brushed under the carpet vis-à-vis members of the LGBTQIA+ community and equated with their general "suffering". The laws and policies related to mental health and suicide prevention rarely consider their narratives. Of specific concern is HIV and other sexually transmitted illnesses, injectable drug abuse, and the risk of sexual violence and sexual dysfunctions.

LGBTQIA+ individuals tend to remain isolated within their community as that gives them security, comfort and acceptance. The social ostracisation and marginalisation leads to "minority stress", and this has adverse psychological and social effects that can be transgenerational.

Emotional health does not exist in a vacuum. Meaningful participation from all sectors of society, sensitisation of healthcare professionals to their unmet needs, inclusion of their voices in policies, and a holistic "welcome" to their identity among us are the needs of the hour. That bridges the hierarchical gap between this "othered" community and society, therefore improving their quality of life and living.

Coming from the civilisation that gregariously proclaims "Ekoham bahusyami" (One to many and many to one), it should be our true spirit in thought and action.

Dialogue a must for peace

Apropos of Jama'at-e-Islami and the space of dialogue (Feb 15). The editorial has unambiguously stated the need for dialogues in a democratic and pluralistic setup. The warning about the presence of detractors, hatemongers and rabble-rousers was a must. It is important that these sections do not spoil the whole process. Let us look at the long-term target: establishing mutual trust and coexistence.

The 'I-T survey'

Apropos of K Jayakumar's column, Subsidence of democratic values (Feb 16). Drug menace in schools

In modern times, easy accessibility to things has made life comfortable. But some of the problems affecting the modern world are alcoholism, smoking and drug abuse. It has expanded its monstrous reach to our schools too. Prevention is always better than cure. It can be tackled by educating children at home and school about the ill effects of drugs.

Minorities in Pakistan

Apropos of Pakistan's outcasts and their ordeals (Feb 16). Persecution of religious minorities is not a new phenomenon in Pakistan. Ethnic cleansing and religious hegemony were always politically and socially disastrous, if one reads the history of any nation.

Air India back with a bang

Apropos of Mega Air India deal shows it's ready to take on global rivals (Feb 16). The Modi government did well to sell the government's stake in the beleaguered airline to the Tatas, who have worked their magic on the Maharaja. Air India is now back in the reckoning as never before and should soon turn into a formidable competitor for other international carriers.

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@New Delhi

"OUR tribal children and tribal youth will be able to study in their own languages and move forward," Prime Minister Narendra Modi said on Thursday after inaugurating the Aadi Mahotsava started here for creating markets of tribal products. He asserted that the education of tribal children in the country has become the BJP-led NDA government's top priority and commitment.

"Tribal children, be they in any condition in the country, their education and their future is my priority. And for this, the number of Eklavya Model Residential schools has increased from 80 in 2004-2014 to 500 from 2014-2022," the prime minister stated.

He said that more than 400 Eklavya Model Residential Schools out of the target 500 have been opened, with around 1 lakh children of tribal communities in different parts of country. "Our government has made a provision in this year's budget for recruitment of 38,000 teachers and staffers for these schools," the PM said.

"India in the 21st century is moving on with the mantra of 'Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas'. I have seen and learnt a lot from the tribal traditions and welfare of tribal society is a matter of personal relations and emotion for me," the PM asserted.

Describing the Aadi Mahotsava as celebrating India's glorious tribal culture, tradition and skills, the PM said that tribal products should be ensured in maximum markets with proper global recognition. "Accordingly, the government is working in this direction to prioritise tribal products as well as the people working in the last rung of society. And when the country gives its priority to the last man of society, the path of progress is automatically opened", he said.

The PM also expressed pride over a tribal woman decorating the country's apex constitutional post of the President.

The PM further said that his government has worked to boost the demand for tribal products with over 1.25 crore tribals, especially women, are associated with more than 80 lakh Self Help Groups (SHGs) in the country. He said that if the world wants to get a hang of how to tackle climate challenges, the tribal community in India has a lot to inspire and show the paths.

Taking a jibe at the previous government, the PM said that the use of bamboo was restricted but his government has lifted all restrictions on the use of bamboo after including bamboo in the category of grass.

Highlighting his government's concerns for tribal communities, the PM said that over 3,000 Van Dhan Kendras (VDKs) have been established in various states for supporting the tribal peoples in their traditional endeavour.

Army to get new Vice Chief, two top commanders soon

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

THE wheels of a major change at the Indian Army's top echelons started rolling with the announcement of new Vice Chief of the Army Staff (VCOAS) and two Army Commanders.

Lt Gen MV Suchindra Kumar, currently the Deputy Chief of Army Staff (Strategy) in the Army Headquarters, will be promoted to the rank of Army Commander and appointed as the new Vice Chief of Army Staff.

In addition to the VCOAS, the Indian Army this year will see a rare coincidence wherein the Army will get five new Commanders. Sources said the government has approved the promotion/appointment of senior Army officers effective from March 1, 2023.

The present VCOAS Lt Gen Baggavalli Somashekar Raju will assume the charge of the Commander-in-Chief (C-in-C) the South Western Army Commander. Lt Gen Amardeep Singh Bhinder is currently serving as the C-in-C.

Lt Gen NSR Subramani, currently the Chief of Staff in Northern Command, will be promoted to the rank of Army commander and appointed as the next Central Army Commander in Lucknow. Lt Gen Yogendra Dimri is at present serving as the C-in-C.

A Commander in Chief (C-in-C) of the armed forces is an independent authority to fight a war in the theatre and the headquarters of the command function as the war headquarters.

The next in line are Lt Gen SS Mahal (Army Training Command, Shimla), Lt Gen Nav K Khanduri (Western Command, Chandigarh) and last to superannuate will be Lt Gen Rana Pratap Kalita (Eastern Command, Kolkata) who will be retiring in December.

Chiefs of Udhampur-based Northern Command, Lt Gen Upendra Dwivedi and Pune-based Southern Command will continue at the helm.

Lt Gen Raju is an alumnus of Sainik School Bijapur and National Defence Academy was commissioned in the 11th Battalion The Jat Regiment on 15 December 1984. The General Officer has attended all-important career courses in India and has the privilege of doing his NDC at Royal College of Defence Studies, UK. Aadhaar-based payment for rural jobs, big cut in funds trigger uproar

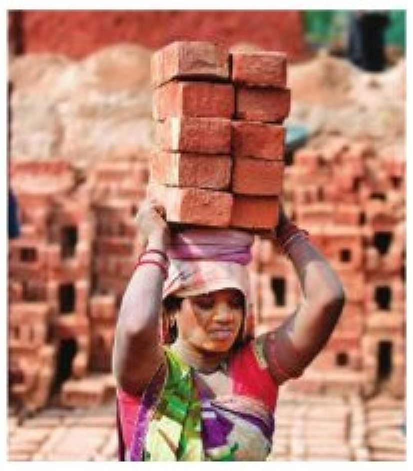
PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi



AFTER the mandatory imposition of a new digital-attendance app for workers and the drastic cut in the budgetary allocation for NREGA, the government's recent order to route NREGA wage payments through the Aadhaar Based Payment System (ABPS) is another big blow to rural job scheme, said several workers who are on a 100 day protest at Jantar Mantar in the capital.

Sita Kumari from Bihar is among hundreds of workers protesting under the banner NREGA Sangharsh Morcha, a national collective of trade unions, workers platforms and organizations, in the capital. "I have heard about the new ABPS system, and I think it will further delay the payment of workers. I have been out of work for two months because of the mandatory digital attendance. I am yet to get earlier dues," she told this newspaper.

From February 1, this year, the Ministry of Rural Development made it mandatory that all payments to the Mahatma Gandhi NREGA beneficiaries would be made through Aadhaar Based Payment System (ABPS) only. This move comes close on the heels of a 33 percent cut in the Budget allocation for NREGA in the Union Budget to Rs 60,000 crore. From January 1 onwards, the NMMS digital-attendance App was made compulsory for the workers across the country.

Speaking at a press meet organised by NREGA Sangharsh Morcha, economist Jean Dreze said that the enforcement of the ABPS is the biggest attack on NREGA so far.

"The Aadhar based payment will result in the majority of MGNREGA workers not being paid their duly earned wages. And an even larger majority of workers will not know whether they are or are not eligible for ABPS. This is a truly shocking order and can destroy the programme. This order reeks of the same kind of recklessness and irresponsibility that was demonstrated by the government in its announcement of demonetization and the national lockdown," said Dreze. The NSM also demanded the immediate removal of NMMS app, the revocation of ABPS, and a time bound action plan to ensure that all NREGA workers are paid their wages within 15 days of them completing work

Maheshwari Devi from Muzaffarpur in Bihar says that though she reaches work at 9am, she has to stay at the worksite till 4pm because her photo needs to be uploaded twice a day for her to get her wage.

Remarks on PM-Adani links: Rahul replies to breach of privilege notice

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi on Thursday submitted a reply to the breach of privilege notice moved by BJP MPs in the Lok Sabha.

On February 7, during his speech following the Motion of Thanks on the President's address in the Lower House of the Parliament, Rahul had attacked PM Modi and raised questions on his links with the Adani Group. The Centre has been in the eye of a storm over a US-based short-seller report on the conglomerate.

It has been learnt that Rahul submitted a detailed reply to the Lok Sabha secretariat on privilege motion moved by BJP MP Nishikant Dubey and Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi.

In his letter to Lok Sabha Speaker Om Birla, Dubey demanded action against Rahul Gandhi alleging that he made 'unverified, incriminatory and defamatory' statements against PM Modi. Supporting Dubey, Joshi also demanded breach of privilege against the Congress leader and his comments be expunged from records. Dubey also said that Rahul hasn't submitted any authenticated document supporting his claims in the Lower House.

In his letter, Dubey wrote, "These statements are misleading, derogatory, indecent, unparliamentary, undignified and incriminatory in nature to the dignity of the House and the Prime Minister being a Member of the Lok Sabha.

Rahul Gandhi, despite making a statement in the House that he would provide documentary evidence, has not submitted any duly authenticated document for supporting his statements," he said.

Birla has expunged 18 remarks from the speech made by Gandhi, which evoked strong protests from Congress leaders. Congress leader Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury has written to Birla last week to restore the speech by the Congress MP.

Soul of India: Best village tourism competition to push rural infra

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

TO honour 'soul of India' and efforts made to preserve natural and cultural resources, the ministry of tourism on Thursday launched an initiative—best tourism village competition. Union tourism minister G Kishan Reddy also unveiled a rural tourism portal on the occasion. The objective of the website is to showcase the potential of rural tourism and inform about stakeholders' initiatives and strategies of rural, tribal villages and homestays.

The best villages selected through a three-level competitions—district, state and national—will be recognised as Best Tourism Villages by the ministry. The national awarded village will be featured on the different portals including government websites.

"Villages recognised as Best Tourism Villages will benefit from the national recognition as an example of a destination that promotes its associated landscapes, knowledge systems, biological and cultural diversity, local values and activities," said the ministry.

The nine-point evaluation criteria have been aligned with the Sustainable Development Goals, said the officials.

"Best tourism village competition was formulated to develop and promote rural tourism. The initiative is to showcase the potential of rural tourism and stakeholders' programmes. Best tourism village aims at honouring the soul of India; competition focuses on to harvest the competitive feelings among the villages which need rural development, community well-being and preservation of natural and cultural assets," the officials said.

UGC to launch portal to implement NEP in higher edu institutions

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

THE University Grants Commission (UGC) will soon launch a portal, which will help to effectively track and support the implementation of the National Education Policy (NEP), 2020 and its strategic initiatives across the country's Higher Educational Institutions (HEIs).

Speaking with this newspaper, UGC chairman Prof M Jagadesh Kumar said the portal – UTSAH (Undertaking Transformative Strategies and Actions in Higher Education) – will also provide detailed information about UGC's initiatives for qualitative reforms.

The portal is likely to be launched by the end of February, he said. "Information related to higher education has always been in demand by policymakers, students and researchers globally. Timely, reliable and authentic information is the backbone of effective and informed policy formulation for social and economic development," Prof Kumar said.

"The data collected on the UTSAH Portal will be beneficial for policy-making within and outside the government," he said. The portal has a user-friendly interface that will help HEIs to submit information regarding their initiatives, achievements and best practices. It will also help track outputs and outcomes across essential fields, he said.

> Data collected on UTSAH Portal will be beneficial to policy-making within and outside the govt. The portal will help institutions to submit information regarding their initiatives, achievements and best practices
>
> M Jagadesh Kumar, chairman, UGC

It has been developed after consultations with various stakeholders, including institutions, universities, colleges, IITs, IIMs and others.

The main aim of the portal will be to gather information from HEIs focused on ten major thrust areas for which key performance indicators and the activities targeted to achieve them have been identified.

One of the major areas is multidisciplinary and holistic education. Under this, the key performance indicator will be the adoption of the Academic Bank of Credits (ABC). This facility contains information on credits earned by individual students of HEIs as envisioned under NEP.

Other key indicators will be multiple entry and exit, multidisciplinary programmes and curricular and credit framework.

According to the UGC chairman, the other major thrust areas are digital empowerment and online education; skill development and employability; research, innovation and entrepreneurship; capacity building of teachers for quality education; governance and autonomy; quality, ranking and accreditation; equitable and inclusive education; promotion of Indian languages and Indian knowledge systems and internationalisation of education.

HOW ISOLATION AFFECTS MEMORY

Researchers have found that social isolation can have disastrous effects, and can affect learning and even memory. Which is why having a healthy social circle of family and friends could be healthier than you thought. Researchers at Baylor College of Medicine have reported that social isolation can make the most abundant brain cells, called astrocytes, hyperactive. This can lead to suppression of brain circuit functions and memory formation. They also found that reversing the astrocyte hyperactivity removed the effects linked to social deprivation. The study showed this manipulation was enough to restore learning and memory deficits triggered by isolation.

ANCESTORS WERE RIGHT! GINGER DOES TRIGGER IMMUNITY

Farmers rush to save their ginger crops as flood water encroaches their field in Mysuru in Karnataka | UDAYSHANKAR S

If your ancestors over centuries have been insisting that ginger boosts your immunity, now science has proved. A new study from Leibniz Institute for Food Systems Biology at the Technical University of Munich found that even small amounts of a pungent ginger constituent put white blood cells on heightened immunity alert. Researchers discovered that the process was triggered by a receptor, called TRPV1,which in turn sets the process going in the face of painful heat stimuli and spicy food. Ginger's pungent compounds — in particular, a compound called [6]-gingerol — were found to exert the taste effects on the TRPV1 receptor situated on the nerve cells' surface which respond to the pungent compounds and key up the WBCs to be on heightened immunity alert. The study also showed that even a 15 micrograms concentration of [6]-gingerol per litre was enough set the WBCs to gorn on immunity alert to stave off 'invaders'.

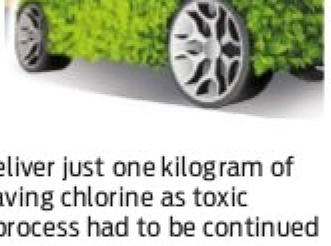
LOW-COST METHOD FOR 'GREEN' HYDROGEN FROM SALTWATER



Researchers from RMIT University in Australia have developed a simple and low-cost method to derive 'green' hydrogen from salt water without the process of desalination involved. 'Green' hydrogen is derived through low-carbon emission and is in much demand now as a clean fuel, seen as a solution to major energy challenges. The RMIT researchers from the varsity's Materials for Clean Energy and Environment (MC2E) research group devised a special catalyst in an electrolyser to work specifically with seawater. Currently, the electrolysers used in the process involve costly catalysts which can consume nine litres of water to deliver just one kilogram of hydrogen. Besides, there is the concern of having chlorine as toxic output, although not carbon dioxide. If the process had to be continued without solving the chlorine output problem, they would end up with 240 million tonnes of chlorine — four times the world's requirement of chlorine, the researchers said. However, the researchers' new simple technique — for which a provisional patent has been applied — yields neither carbon dioxide nor chlorine.

Chennithala told to assess Maha Cong situation amid crisis

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

AMID dispute and 'settlement' between Maharashtra Congress chief Nana Patole and party's legislative wing incharge Balasaheb Thorat, party chief Mallikarjun Kharge has decided to dispatch Ramesh Chennithala to assess the situation and submit a report.

The top party leadership had taken a serious view of Thorat's letter posted a few days back that made it clear that he would be quitting his CLP post if Patole continued to be the state chief. Earlier, party in charge and observer HK Patil met Thorat and discussed the situation.

"The Congress leadership has decided to replace the state Congress president, but who should replace him? So, Chennithala will be reaching Maharashtra and meeting party leaders to find out a few names for the next state party chief post. Nana Patole will be removed after Congress' meeting in Chhattisgarh. Till then, leaders are asked to maintain peace," said a senior party leader.

At a recent party presser, Congress leaders maintained that all's well in the party. Thorat had refused to speak about his resignation while Patole blamed the BJP for blowing their issue out of proportion.

POLITICAL BUZZ

- Buzz is Maha Cong chief could be replaced
- However, Cong in a spot over choice of new state party chief
- There are at least half-a-dozen leaders who would aim for the top job

Former CM Ashok Chavan called it a storm in the teacup and asked the media, not to highlight much. But things are happening behind the scenes to remove Nana Patole," said a senior Congress leader.

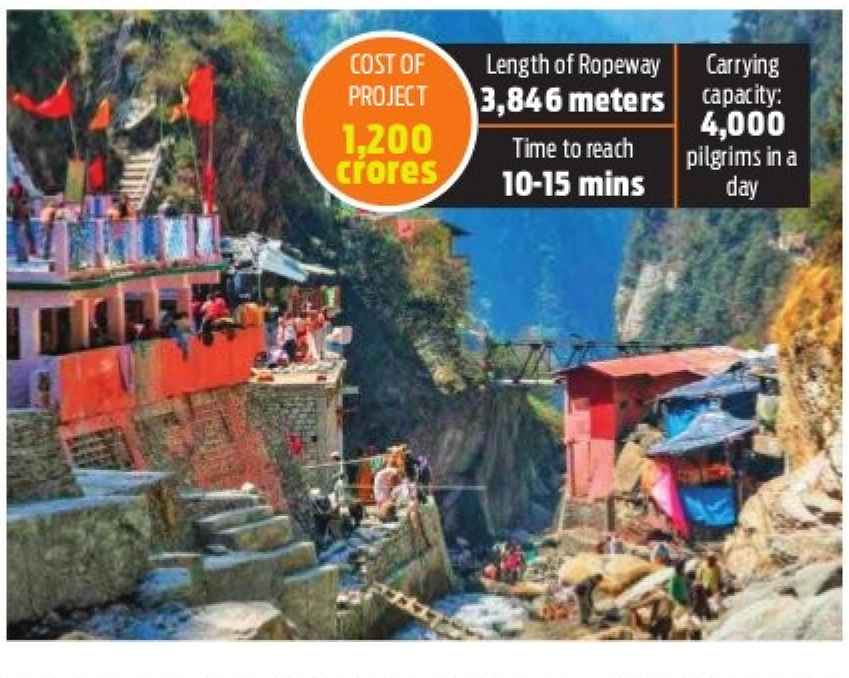
Sources said if Thorat's resignation is not accepted, then the Congress chief will appoint another state party president. "The three OBC names are going the rounds: former minister Yashomati Thakur backed by the Thorat group, former minister Vijay Wadettiwar backed by Ashok Chavan and third is Sunil Kedar who is backed by Thorat and MLAs.

In another scenario, if Thorat's resignation as CLP chief is accepted, then former CM Ashok Chavan could be considered for the top job.

Yamunotri ropeway project okayed

Relief to lakhs of Char Dham pilgrims as travel time to the shrine will reduce substantially

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun



THE Centre has approved the long-awaited ropeway project at Yamunotri – one of the four 'dhams' of Uttarakhand. The 3.7-km ropeway from Kharsali to Yamunotri will not only reduce the distance to the Himalayan shrine but also provide great relief to pilgrims, especially the elderly, from undertaking the arduous journey of around 5 km.

District Tourism Officer Rahul Choubey said, the foundation stone for the Rs 1,200 crore project was laid by then BJP chief Nitin Gadkari in 2011. The Yamunotri Dham is located in Uttarkashi district of the state.

The Yamunotri temple is dedicated to Goddess Yamuna and is located in western Garhwal Himalayas at an altitude of about 3,291 meters. Devotees currently have to undergo a 5km steep climb to reach the temple after Janaki Chatti.

"The project is commercial and environment-friendly," state secretary of tourism Sachin Kurbe told this newspaper. "Such projects are good for the people as well as the ecology and economy of our state," he said.

Officials privy to the details of the project said the ropeway, to be built at an altitude of 10,797 feet, will be 3.8 km long. The project, envisaged in 2008, was delayed for a long time. The ropeway aims to reduce the time to 10-15 minutes. Currently, it takes around 90 minutes to reach the temple from Kharsali village in Janakichatti.

District tourism officer Choubey said the villagers of Kharsali had given around 14,880 square yards of land for the project. Though it could not be started due to hurdles in the acquisition of forestland, the Ministry of Environment and Forests has now transferred 3.8 hectares to the tourism department for the project.

Another tourism department official told this reporter that there are frequent jams due to the narrow road leading to the 'dham'. "In view of all these problems, it was proposed in the year 2006 to connect Yamunotri Dham with the ropeway, for which a tender was also issued by the Tourism Department in 2012. However, due to lack of strong will in the government, the ropeway project could not be approved even after 15 years," said the official.

Local businessman Jaswant Singh told this daily that after the connectivity to the ropeway, the source of income of local businessmen would increase and the economy of the region will also thrive.

Not much snow: 4-day Auli skiing competition off

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Dehradun

THE four-day National Skiing Championship due at Auli Skiing Centre in Joshimath from February 23 has been cancelled. The Ski and Snowboard Association has cited lack of snow that could have allowed the contest.

Speaking to this newspaper, Tourism Minister Satpal Maharaj said preparations for the Winter Games in Auli were complete, but this time there has been no snowfall. "There is no snow on the slopes of Auli. The situation has forced us to cancel the competition".

Uttarakhand Tourism Development Board Additional CEO Col Ashwini Pundir told this daily that around 300 members were expected to participate along with the participating teams. Auli is considered one of the best skiing destinations in India and is often compared with the best such resorts in the world.

The best ice-skating slope in the country is at present in Auli. The others include Manali and Gulmarg. The Manali event has been cancelled this time.

For this, a separate transmitter will be installed at the area to broadcast programmes starting at 5.15 am

Now cracks in Agra's Diwan-e-Aam Fort

Since the emergence of the phenomenon of land sinking in Joshimath of Uttarakhand leading to displacement of thousands, the story of cracks surfacing in buildings, monuments, houses across the country is going on. Latest is Diwan e-Aam of Agra Fort, which has been closed for tourists after deep cracks developed in its ceiling. The competent ASI authorities claimed the staff inside the monument noticed cracks on the roof of the Diwan-e-Aam on February 13. While damaged part of the monument has been barricaded and closed tourists to save them from any mishap, tell-tale glasses are also being installed, to measure the crack width variation. The reason is yet to be ascertained.

13 held, internet services suspended as 2 groups battle it out in Palamu

MUKESH RANJAN @ Ranchi

INTERNET services remain suspended for the second consecutive day after clashes between two groups at Panki in Palamu over construction of 'Toran Dwar,' (traditional decorative makeshift gate), further leading to a scuffle between the two. 13 people, including a former Mukhiya, have been arrested, while two FIRs have been lodged against 100 named accused persons and 1,000 unknown persons.

At least 12 people were injured in clashes between two groups which took place on Wednesday, poice said. "Though, the situation is tense, it is completely under control. Prohibitory orders under Section 144 have been imposed in Palamu district and internet services have also been suspended," said Palamu SP Chandan Kumar Sinha.

People are requested to abide by the prohibitory orders, he added. Meanwhile, the internet services will remain suspended in Palamu district till February 19. According to locals, tensions erupted between two groups over the construction of 'Toran Dwar' during the preparations of Mahashivratri, which is on February 18. It lead to heated exchange of arguments between the two communities, further escalated into a scuffle. Soon, both the groups indulged in stone pelting prompting intervention by police.

BJP legislative party leader Babulal Marandi, however, held Chief Minister Hemant Soren responsible for the violence, saying that his government has been promoting a particular community for vote bank politics and missed no opportunity to hurt sentiment of the majority to save his vote bank. Despite a series of riots in Lohardaga, Simdega, Ranchi and other places, Soren government has not come out with any report so far explaining the reason behind the riot and groups involved in it. This helped boost the morale of communal forces," said Marandi.

3 killed as a jumbo goes berserk at UP religious event

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Lucknow

IN a tragic incident, an elephant which went berserk trampled three persons, including two women and a child to death during a religious event in Gorakhpur on Thursday. According to the local sources, the jumbo ran amok during a yagya ceremony held at Mohammadpur Mafi village of Jagatbela under Chitwa Tal police station area of Gorakhpur.

Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath expressed grief over the incident and has ordered compensation of ₹5 lakh to the family of each victim. The sources claimed that in Mohammadpur Mafi village, the yagya of Shri Lakshmi Narayan was planned from February 16 to 24. On the first day of the event, a Kalash Yatra had to be taken out and two elephants were called in to take part in the yatra.

One of the elephants got aggressive by the noise and people taking selfies. Those killed by the berserk jumbo were identified as Kanti Devi, 55, Kaushalya Devi, 50, and her four-year-old grandson named Krishna. While creating havoc at the yagya site, the jumbo left scores of devotees, who had thronged the place injured.

Why delay taking action against Gehlot loyalist legislators, asks Pilot

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

RAJASTHAN's former Deputy Chief Minister and Congress member Sachin Pilot Wednesday questioned the party leadership's 'inordinate delay' in initiating action against the leaders who had 'defied' then president Sonia Gandhi by not letting a legislature party take place on September 25 last year, and demanded for a speedy action on the rebellion.

Pilot's name was to be proposed as the state chief minister in that party meeting but it was averted by the rebel MLAs. Ministers Shanti Dhariwal, Mahesh Joshi and RTDC Chairman Dharmendra Rathore were said to have played a major role behind the act.

It is notable that recently the Speaker of the Assembly CP Joshi had replied in the high court on the issue of resignation of 81 MLAs that since these resignations were not given voluntarily, they were not accepted. Since then, the Pilot group has been raising the demand for an inquiry in front of the top leadership in this regard that under whose pressure the resignations of the MLAs were given on the night of September 25.

Referring to the show cause notices issued more than four months ago to three leaders considered close to CM Ashok Gehlot for holding a parallel gathering to the CLP meeting, Pilot said the AICC disciplinary committee under A K Antony, Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge and the leadership can best answer as to why there has been an "unprecedented delay" in a dec sion on the matter.

Pilot remarked,"Whatever decisions have to be taken about the Congress party in Rajasthan, it should be taken soon as we are looking at polls at the end of the year." Pilot also pointed out that PM Narendra Modi is already campaigning in Rajasthan. Congress will have to mobilize ground workers to be ready for the fight.

Himachal govt decides to adopt orphaned kids

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chandigarh

HIMACHAL Pradesh cabinet in its second meeting today decided that the orphan children, referred to as 'children of the state' will be adopted by the state government which will refurbish the existing shelter schemes, orphanages and old-age homes under the 'Mukhya Mantri Sukh-Ashray Yojana.'

The ₹101-crore scheme will cover orphans and also those staying with their relatives, specially-abled children, destitute women as well as senior citizens. The government said the facilities under the Yojana will include common rooms, smart classes and coaching rooms, indoor and outdoor sports facilities, music room, and other modern amenities.

To provide quality education for the children living in orphanages, adequate coaching will also be given.

Eco-clubs sprout across Himachal, students part of environment drive

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

AS part of the National Green Corps (NGC), the Himachal Pradesh Council for Science, Technology and Environment (HIMCOSTE) has set up 3,000 eco-clubs in schools and 100 in colleges across the state. HIMCOSTE will now install rooftop solar power plants in 20 schools. HIMCOSTE also undertakes rainwater harvesting, solid waste management and development of herbal gardens on school campuses.

Himachal Pradesh has bagged the best state award for the Green School Program (GSP) given by the Centre for Science and Environment after audit submissions.

Director Environment and programme in-charge Lalit Jain, who is a member secretary, HIMCOSTE, will receive this award on February 21. The state will also get the best award for Solan district. Two teachers have also been selected for GSP Ambassador award.

Himachal Pradesh chief secretary Prabodh Saxena said the state government undertakes various environment-related and conservation activities to spread awareness among students. The NGC under HIMCOSTE as a nodal agency targets schoolchildren to redirect their thoughts and actions to create a more sustainable planet. Through novel educational approaches and experiences, students are encouraged to delve deeper into environmental issues.

HIMCOSTE provides innovative environmental projects to the eco-club schools and colleges. These schools undertake various activities such as rainwater harvesting (rooftop or paved areas), development of herbal gardens, solid waste management, beautification of school campuses, setting up of science and environment model demonstration labs and any other innovative concept aimed at conservation and protection of environment.

HIMCOSTE is implementing a plastic waste buyback scheme through 100 eco-club schools. It also organises a plantation campaign every year with the concept of 'Green Himachal Clean Himachal'. A tree plantation campaign has resulted in approximately 26,106 plants of various species being planted during the financial year.

Spain first European nation to approve law on paid menstrual leave

MADRID

SPANISH lawmakers on Thursday gave final approval to a law granting paid medical leave to women suffering severe period pain, becoming the first European country to advance such legislation.

The law, which passed by 185 votes in favour to 154 against, is aimed at breaking a taboo on the subject.

Menstrual leave is currently offered only in a small number of countries which includes Japan, Indonesia, Zambia, Taiwan and South Korea.

"It is a historic day for feminist progress," Equality Minister Irene Montero tweeted ahead of the vote. Montero vowed, "No more going to work with pain, no more taking pills before arriving at work and having to hide the fact we're in pain that makes us unable to work."

The legislation entitles workers experiencing period pain to as much time off as they need, with the state social security system—not employers—picking up the tab for the sick leave. As with paid leave for other health reasons, a doctor must approve the temporary medical incapacity.

The length of sick leave that doctors will be able to grant to women suffering from painful periods has not been specified in the law. About a third of women who menstruate suffer from severe pain, according to the Spanish Gynaecology and Obstetrics Society.

However, the measure has created divisions among both politicians and unions, with the UGT, one of Spain's largest trade unions, warning it could stigmatise women in the workplace and favour the recruitment of men.

The main opposition conservative Popular Party also warned the law risks "stigmatising" women and could have "negative consequences in the labour market" for them.

"Menstrual leave" is one of the key measures in the broader legislation, which also provides for increased access to abortion in public hospitals.

The new law also allows minors to have abortions without parental permission at 16 and 17 years of age.

Less than 15% of abortions performed in the country take place in such institutions, mainly because of conscientious objections by doctors.

A separate package of reforms also approved by lawmakers on Thursday strengthened transgender rights, including allowing any citizen over 16 years old to change their legally registered gender without medical supervision.

Minors between 12-13 years old will need a judge's authorisation to change, while those between 14 and 16 must be accompanied by their parents or legal guardians. Agencies

Trump poll probe jury believes some witnesses lied

ATLANTA

A US judge on Thursday released parts of the report from a special grand jury investigating potential interference by Donald Trump in the 2020 election—making public its allegations that witnesses may have lied under oath.

"A majority of the grand jury believes that perjury may have been committed by one or more witnesses testifying before it," the jurors said, adding that they had found no evidence for Trump's claims of widespread fraud in the election.

"The grand jury recommends that the district attorney seek appropriate indictments for such crimes where the evidence is compelling."

The investigative panel of 23 jurors, which cannot issue indictments, took testimony from some of Trump's closest allies, including his fourth chief of staff Mark Meadows, his former attorney Rudy Giuliani and Republican South Carolina Senator Lindsey Graham.

Fulton County Superior Court Judge Robert McBurney ordered on Monday that the introduction and conclusion of the report be made public along with the section about potential perjury.

Democratic District Attorney Fani Willis will make the ultimate charging decision after presenting the panel's findings to one of the criminal grand juries regularly empaneled in Fulton County, a process that may already have started.

The panel probed Trump's January 2, 2021 phone call with Georgia Secretary of State Brad Raffensperger, when he infamously asked election officials to "find" the 11,780 votes that would put him one vote ahead of Biden.

It also scrutinised efforts by top Trump allies to deputise Republican activists to pose as presidential "electors" at the Georgia Capitol in Atlanta in December 2020 and sign certificates falsely claiming Trump had won the state's election.

Other lines of inquiry took in allegations of false claims of election fraud to state lawmakers, illegal efforts to access voting machines, threats and harassment against Georgia election workers. AFP

Russia hits Ukraine in all directions as war's anniversary approaches

In new tactic, Russians launch balloons with reflectors to deceive Ukraine's air defence

KYIV

RUSSIA pummeled Ukraine with a barrage of cruise and other missiles on Thursday, hitting targets across the length and width of the country as the war's one-year anniversary nears.

Ukrainian authorities said targets in the north, west, south, east and center of the country were struck.

One of the strikes killed a 79-year-old woman and injured at least seven other persons, Ukrainian authorities said.

Russian forces used a variety of missile types, firing 36 in a two-hour overnight burst, Ukraine's military chief, Valery Zaluzhnyy, said. Ukrainian air defence batteries shot down 16 of them, he said—a lower rate of success than against some previous Russian waves.

Ukrainian authorities said targets in the north, west, south, east and center of the country were struck.

The head of Ukraine's presidential office, Andriy Yermak, said Russian forces "changed their tactics" for the strike, deploying what he described as "active reconnaissance" and "false targets."

Russian troops had launched balloons with corner reflectors to deceive Ukraine's air defence as part of an effort to retake some battlefield advantage after months of setbacks, Oleksiy Danilov, the secretary of Ukraine's National Security and Defense Council, said.

"This indicates that (the Russians) are preparing and not sleeping," Danilov said on Ukrainian TV, "and they are starting to use other methods."

Ukrainian air defences that have been strengthened by Western-supplied weapons systems and have had high rates of success against previous Russian barrages of missiles and killer drones.

One of the overnight strikes caused casualties and destroyed homes in the eastern city of Pavlohrad, the regional governor said. Governor Serhiy Lysak said a 79-year-old woman was killed and at least seven other persons were wounded, including two who were later hospitalised.

The strike destroyed seven homes, damaged 30 others and sparked a fire at an industrial plant that emergency services put out within hours, the governor added.

Meanwhile, NATO chief Jens Stoltenberg told AFP that the alliance must be prepared for a long standoff with Russia beyond the immediate crisis triggered by President Vladimir Putin's year-old invasion of Ukraine. "President Putin wants a different Europe, wants a Europe where he can control neighbours, where he can decide what countries can do," Stoltenberg, 63, said in an interview ahead of the first anniversary of Moscow's invasion.

Kremlin expels Austrian diplomats amid tensions

Moscow: Russia said on Thursday it was expelling four Austrian diplomats after Vienna expelled four employees of Russia's foreign missions in Austria, with tensions soaring over the Ukraine conflict. Earlier in February, Vienna said it was expelling four Russian diplomats, including two accredited with the United Nations in Vienna, saying they acted "in a manner incompatible with their diplomatic status." Diplomatic expulsions are rare in neutral Austria which has enjoyed close relations with Russia before the start of Moscow's offensive in Ukraine last year.

Hong Kong population drops for 3rd year under Covid shadow

Hong Kong's government announced on Thursday that the territory's population dropped for a third straight year as deaths rose during the pandemic and anti-virus measures reduced the number of arriving workers, but did not mention an exodus of residents sparked by a crackdown on the pro-democracy movement

0.9% decline

The city's population declined 0.9% to 7.3 million at the end of 2022 from a year earlier, as per provisional data released by the Census and Statistics Department

It said there was a net outflow of 60,000 residents, with 21,200 new residents arriving

For much of the pandemic, Hong Kong followed mainland China's stringent "zero-Covid" strategy, deterring professionals from moving into the international financial hub

Its population decline has been exacerbated by a growing number of young professionals leaving for Britain, the US and other countries in response to the erosion of Hong Kong's Western-style civil liberties after a harsh new National Security Law silenced or jailed dissidents

NO CLUE OF EXODUS

Thursday's announcement gave no clue regarding how many people had left for political reasons but said there was a slight rebound in inflows near the end of last year after officials gradually relaxed anti-virus controls

"We noticed that the population decrease in the second half of 2022 has narrowed when compared to that in the first half, reflecting that movement of the Hong Kong population has begun to resume normal gradually," the statement said

The government predicted that factors hindering workers from moving to HK will dissipate after the resumption of restriction-free travel with China and elsewhere

HK rolled out measures aimed at attracting 35,000 professionals each year between 2023 and 2025

First indication of rift in Af Taliban as Haqqani criticises supreme leader

ISLAMABAD

A rare public show of division within the ranks of Afghanistan's ruling Taliban emerged in recent days when Interior Minister Sirajuddin Haqqani, a powerful government figure, gave a speech seen as implicit criticism of the movement's reclusive supreme leader.

In recent months, the group's supreme leader, Hibatullah Akhundzada, has appeared to take a stronger hand in directing policy. In particular, it was on his orders that the Taliban government banned women and girls from universities and schools after the sixth grade.

Haqqani made his comments in a speech to a graduation ceremony at an Islamic religious school in Khost.

"Monopolising power and hurting the reputation of the entire system are not to our benefit," Haqqani said. "The situation cannot be tolerated," he added.

Haqqani said now that the Taliban have taken power, "more responsibility has been placed on our shoulders and it requires patience and good behaviour and engagement with the people." He said the Taliban must "soothe the wounds of the people" and act in a way that the people do not come to hate them and religion.

Haqqani did not refer to Akhundzada, but the remarks were seen by many directed at him. Haqqani also did not mention the issue of women's education, but he has said publicly in the past that women and girls should be allowed to go to school and universities.

Zabihullah Mujahed, the top spokesman for the Kabul government, said in an apparent reaction to Haqqani's comments—without naming him—that criticism is best voiced privately. "If someone criticises the emir, minister, or any other official, it is better—and Islamic ethics also say—that he should express his criticism directly and secretly to him," not in public, he said. AP

Cancer scare in US town after chemical train goes off track

WASHINGTON

HOURS after urging residents living near the site of a toxic train derailment to only drink bottled water, governor of Ohio said later on Wednesday that it was safe to drink the usual water supplied to their homes.

However, his assurance was not enough to clam the agitated residents in the Ohio's East Palestine town, who packed a gymnasium demanding reassurances after toxic chemicals spilled and burned in a huge plume over their homes and businesses.

"I have three grandbabies," said Kathy Dyke, who came with hundreds of her neighbours to a meeting on Wednesday where representatives of Norfolk Southern, which owns the train, were conspicuously absent. "Are they going to grow up here in five years and have cancer?"

Those attending Wednesday's informational session, originally billed as a town hall meeting, had many questions over health hazards, and demanded more transparency from the railroad operator, which did not attend, citing safety concerns for its staff.

"They're not out here supporting, they're not out here answering questions. For three days we didn't even know what was on the train," said another resident.

The cargo train derailment sparked a massive fire and triggered the release of toxic fumes, including from vinyl chloride, a colourless gas deemed carcinogenic by the US National Cancer Institute.

Norfolk Southern announced on Tuesday that it is creating a $1 million fund to help the community of some 4,700 people in East Palestine. Agencies

LIVING THE AMERICAN DREAM

Haley flaunts Indian heritage in event to launch White House bid

CHARLESTON

REPUBLICAN leader Nikki Haley has said that as a "brown girl" growing up in a black-and-white world, she saw the "promise of America" unfold before her, as she proudly flaunted her Indian heritage in her first public appearance as a White House hopeful.

Haley, 51, is the two-term Governor of South Carolina and the former US Ambassador to the United Nations.

Addressing her enthusiastic supporters at a well-attended event here in the coastal city of South Carolina on Wednesday, Haley said, "I'm more confident than ever that we can make this vision real in our time "because that's what I've seen my entire life. As a brown girl, growing up in a black-and-white world, I saw the promise of America unfold before me."

In her speech to officially launch her 2024 US presidential bid, Haley leaned on her experience at the UN, her background as the child of Indian immigrants. She asserted that America was not a racist country, pointing out she was America's first minority female governor.

She further claimed that under President Joe Biden and Vice President Kamala Harris, "a self-loathing has swept our country." "Every day, we're told America is flawed, rotten, and full of hate. Joe and Kamala even say America is racist. Nothing could be further from the truth," she said.

"Take it from me, America is not a racist country," she said.

Haley was born Nimrata Nikki Randhawa in Bamberg, South Carolina in 1972 to Sikh parents Ajit Singh Randhawa and Raj Kaur Randhawa, who had emigrated from Punjab to Canada and then to the US in the 1960s. She was raised as a Sikh but converted to Christianity after her marriage to Michael Haley in 1996.

"I see America leading the world in freedom and peace. But this vision isn't just mine. It's the core of our nation's history and it called to my parents over fifty years ago. I am the proud daughter of Indian immigrants," she said. PTI

Activists condemn ban on LGBTQ books by govt

Activists in Malaysia criticised on Thursday a government decision to ban three books for allegedly promoting "LGBTQ lifestyles," saying it would further erode gay and transgender rights. "Jacob's Room to Choose," a children's book about gender expression and identity, was banned in January. Another book, "The Tale of Steven," as well as Malay-language title "Aku," were also banned. The ministry said its objective was to "prevent the spread of elements that are harmful to morality in the community." Siti Kasim, a Malaysian human rights lawyer, described the ban as an attempt "to chisel away" at LGBTQ rights. Thilaga Sulathireh from transgender rights group Justice for Sisters said the move was part of "a broader trend of censorship." "The ban of the books further shrinks spaces for LGBTQ people to express and be themselves," she said

Boat carrying 71 Rohingya refugees lands in Aceh

A boat carrying 71 weak and hungry Rohingya Muslims fleeing from refugee camps in Bangladesh landed on Thursday in Indonesia's northernmost province of Aceh, local officials said. 15-year-old Shorif Uddin, who was on the boat with his parents, said two or three people died while they were at sea because of lack of food. "We have been travelling so long and did not have any food to eat. We are really hungry," he said. He said the Rohingya had been unable to find work or achieve higher education in the refugee camps and decided to leave Bangladesh for Indonesia. Miftach Cut Adek, the leader of the tribal fishing community in Lampanah Leungah village in Aceh Besar district, where the boat landed, said it was in good condition and the engine was working. The 71 Rohingya on board included 21 women and 20 children

S&P places ATL's ESG evaluation under review

Action comes after allegations of governance lapses at Adani Group

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

GLOBAL rating agency Standard and Poor's (S&P) has put Adani Transmission Ltd's (ATL) environmental, social, and governance (ESG) evaluation under review.

This action comes after recent allegations of severe governance lapses at the billionaire Gautam Adani-promoted Adani group by the US-based short-seller Hindenburg Research.

"We will closely monitor developments, including any investigations by the Indian regulators and any additional disclosures by the Adani group," S&P said in a statement.

Separately, global index provider MSCI Inc. is expected to release the results of a quarterly review for its ESG and climate indexes this week. According to reports, if there is a significant downgrade in the ESG ratings of any Adani companies, they could be removed from ESG indexes. This may intensify selling pressure on Adani shares.

MSCI, meanwhile, has said it will postpone the reduction of weightages of two Adani group companies, Adani Total Gas and Adani Transmission, to its next index review in May. When monitoring ESG evaluations, S&P uses the term 'under review' to identify certain ESG Evaluations as being potentially affected by changing events.

On January 24, 2023, Hindenburg claimed there were significant governance issues at the Adani group. It accused the port-to-power conglomerate of stock price manipulation. Since then, the equity prices of Adani firms have plummeted by up to 73%. ATL shares have crashed by 65% in three weeks. "The allegations related to group governance and disclosures may affect the appetite of fund providers and business partners in supporting ATL's growth. This may raise financial and operational risks for the company," the rating agency said. ATL is India's largest private electricity transmission and distribution company.

"S&P Global Ratings today placed its ESG Evaluation of 63 for India-based Adani Transmission Ltd (ATL) under review," the statement said. "This follows recent allegations of significant governance issues at the Adani group of companies."

Earlier in the month, S&P Dow Jones Indices had removed Adani Enterprises, the flagship firm of Adani Group, from its sustainability indices with effect from February 7.

ADANI POWER CANCELS DB POWER ACQUISITION

ADANI POWER has cancelled its plan to acquire DB Power, a coal plant project in central India, according to reports. This comes as Adani Group is realigning its capital expenditure to build confidence among investors and lenders following the Hindenburg Research report. Adani Power signed a deal in August 2022 to take over the thermal power assets of DB Power Limited (DBPL) from the Dainik Bhaskar Group for around ₹7,017 crore enterprise valuation. It was first announced that the Adani firm will be completing the deal by October 31, 2022. ENS

HDFC raises ₹25K cr in rupee bond sale

SACHIN KUMAR @ Mumbai

MORTGAGE lender HDFC, on Thursday, raised ₹25,000 crore selling bonds maturing in 10 years, making it country's largest privately placed corporate bond issue. India's largest housing financier, which will soon be merged with HDFC Bank, sold 10-year Non-Convertible Debenture (NCDs) carrying a coupon rate of 7.97% per annum.

The issue was oversubscribed and received 92 bids amounting to ₹27,863 crore of which the company retained 55 investor bids totalling ₹25,000 crore. On Wednesday, the 10-year benchmark government bond yield closed at 7.35 % in the secondary market.

"The proceeds from this bond issuance will used to meet our lending requirements. The response from institutional investors was very good. Insurance companies including LIC, banks, mutual funds, pension trusts, provident funds were among the major investors," a senior official of HDFC told TNIE. "We have raised funds from the market previously also so we knew the institutions will have a strong participation," he said. The deal was arranged by ICICI Bank, Axis Bank, HDFC Bank, and ICICI Securities Primary Dealership, he added. HDFC in a statement said that as soon as the bids opened on Thursday, there was a wide participation from several high-quality investors.

The issue was launched on Tuesday on electronic book platform to raise ₹5,000 crore with an option to retain subscription for an additional ₹20,000 crore. The benchmark transaction is indicative of the extent of investor interest and confidence in the Group.

"Demand in the housing sector continues to be strong throughout the country and across all categories; affordable to premium housing. The penetration level of housing in India is one of the lowest in the world. India's mortgage-to-GDP ratio is about 11% as against 20%+ in many other emerging markets and 60%+ in some of the advanced economies," said V S Rangan, executive director, HDFC. "On a sustainable long-term basis, demand for housing is expected to remain strong, and investor support in long term financing aids allocation of resources towards on-lending to the sector," he added.

HDFC is awaiting regulatory approvals for its reverse merger with its banking subsidiary in a $50 billion deal announced last year. The companies expect to close the transaction in the second quarter of the year. In December last year, HDFC Bank had raised ₹15,000 crore from the market, which was the largest-ever bond issuance by any bank.

Issue oversubscribed, receives bids of ₹27,863 crore

The issue was oversubscribed and received 92 bids amounting to ₹27,863 crore of which the company retained 55 investor bids totalling ₹25,000 crore. On Wednesday, the 10-year benchmark government bond yield closed at 7.35 % in the secondary market

Byju's in talks with investors including TPG to raise more than $500 million

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@Bengaluru

Edtech major Byju's is said to be in talks with various investors to raise over $500 million. According to reports, the company is in negotiations with many investors including TPG, a private equity firm.

This comes at a time when the company is struggling with mounting losses. It also cut 5% jobs- around 2,500- across product, content, media and technology teams. When TNIE contacted Byju's and TPG, both declined to comment on the same.

The company in October announced that it is taking a slew of optimisation measures to ensure sustainable growth alongside strong revenue growth. The company expects that these measures will help achieve profitability by March 2023. In October last year, the edtech major took an unsecured loan of Rs 300 crore from its subsidiary tuition chain Aakash Educational Services that it acquired for $950 million in 2021. According to regulatory filings, the unsecured loan was granted to the edtech giant at 7.50% interest rate.

Byju's reported consolidated loss of ₹4,589 crore in FY21, up from over ₹260 crore in the previous fiscal. Last month, the edtech company rolled out a 4-tier tech-driven internal sales process replacing its existing direct sales process. It said the 4-tier process begins with educating an incoming lead about Byju's product portfolio and its new refund policy over a live Zoom session that is recorded for future audit.

DEBT-LADEN telecom operator Vodafone Idea Limited (VIL) lost a whooping 2.47 million subscribers in December 2022, as per monthly data released by Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI).

In contrast, its rivals Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel added 1.7 million and 1.52 million subscribers, respectively. The data showed mobile subscribers fell for the third time in four months, falling to 1.142 billion at the end of December 2022, from 1.143 billion in November. The reason, the report mentioned, was due to fall in rural users. Rural wireless user base fell to 515.89 million from 516.45 million a month earlier, while wireless subscriptions in urban areas grew to 627.03 million from 626.6 million. As per the data, Jio and Airtel have market shares 37.14% and 32.16%, respectively, while VIL's share narrowed to 21.11%. In terms of wireline service, Jio strengthened its position.

Majority of Wipro employees to receive 87% variable pay for Q3

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

IT services company Wipro, which paid 100% variable pay to its employees in Q2, has offered 87% of the variable pay for Q3 ended December 2022 for bands A to B3 across all units. This covers both freshers as well as team leaders.

In an internal mail to employees, the company said, "Considering the overall performance with the company multiplier at 1, the variable pay for Q3FY2022-23 is 87% for all those whose payout is linked to overall company performance."

For bands A to B3 in all units/functions, and for all bands within support functions, the payout is linked to company-level performance.

"For all others, the pay-out is based on their unit/function target achievement as per policy. And will receive a higher pay-out if they have exceeded their unit's target or lower if not," said Chief Human Resources Officer (CHRO) Saurabh Govil in the mail to employees.

Variable pay based on quarterly performance

Payout will be released in February payroll. Firm's business-linked variable payout is based on a quarter's performance against revenue, bookings and operating margin. Company had paid 100% variable pay to 85% of employees in the second quarter

The payout will be released in the February payroll. Also, the company's business-linked variable payout is based on a quarter's performance against revenue, bookings and operating margin. "In Q3 FY23, it was awarded against a revenue increase of 0.6% compared to the previous quarter, 23.7% increase in bookings compared to the previous quarter and an operating margin of 16.3%, an increase from our previous quarter but still below our planned target," the email read.

Speaking about variable pay at the Q2 earnings conference, Wipro CEO and MD Thierry Delaporte had said that the company will pay out 100% variable pay to 85% of employees in Q2. He announced this as the company had slashed variable payouts in the previous quarter.

TCS is said to have paid 100% variable pay to 70% employees in December quarter. Wipro said in the mail for billable and DOP (digital operations and platforms) employees, minimum utilisation or contractual performance metrics (CPM) level of 50% is needed for payout. "We are confident with our focus and collaboration, we can remain on path to improving our margins," the email said.

We export 50% of telecom gear made in India, says Nokia

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

FINNISH telecom gear maker Nokia is growing its manufacturing capacity in India, and increasing its investment under the Production-linked Incentive (PLI) scheme.

The company, which calls itself the largest telecom manufacturer in te country, also said it is exporting 50% of what it is manufacturing in its Chennai factory.

"We have been manufacturing in India now for almost 12 to 14 years. We are the largest telecom manufacturer in India, and we have a big factory in Chennai, which is also exporting 50% of what we manufacture there. We manufacture and export 2G to 5G equipment all over the world. We exported 5G equipment to the US and other countries, even before 5G was launched in India," said Amit Marwah, Head of Marketing and Corporate Affairs.

Calling the PLI scheme a right move, Marwah said India can become a telecom gear manufacturer hub. In a bid to boost domestic manufacturing, investments and export in the telecom and networking products Department of Telecommunications (DoT) notified the PLI Scheme on 24 February 2021. It allocated ₹12,195 crore for implementation of the scheme for over a period of five year from FY 2021-22 to FY 2025-26.

"We are a part of that PLI scheme, and one of the beneficiaries. We have enhanced our investments under the PLI scheme of India. Also, we are growing our manufacturing base to add more capacity at the same time look at new products," added Marwah.

Telecom operators Reliance Jio and Bharti Airtel, both have chosen the Finnish company as a vendor to supply 5G gear. However, the country's third-largest telecom operator Vodafone Idea is yet to decide on rolling its 5G network. On supplying gear to debt-laden Vodafone Idea Limited (VIL), Marwah said, "We are hopeful that we are working with them." "Some good things have already happened with it. And we are hopeful that we are working with them," said Marwah.

INDIA CAN BECOME TELECOM GEAR MFG HUB

Calling the PLI scheme a right move, Marwah said India can become a telecom gear manufacturing hub. In a bid to boost domestic manufacturing, investments and export in the telecom and networking products Department of Telecommunications (DoT) notified the PLI Scheme on 24 February 2021. It allocated ₹12,195 crore for implementation of the scheme for over a period of five year from FY 2021-22 to FY 2025-26

Banks take 70% haircut in 612 resolved cases so far under IBC

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

BANKS and financial institutions have taken a hefty haircut of as much as 70% in 612 corporate insolvency resolution cases, which ended in resolution till December 31, 2022, according to the quarterly newsletter of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India (IBBI).

Of the total admitted claims of ₹8.3 lakh crore under Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code (IBC), creditors have realised ₹2.5 lakh crore under the resolution plans. This works out as 30% recovery rate. However, the insolvency regulator says recovery through IBC is better than that through other means.

"Any other option of recovery or liquidation would have recovered at best ₹100 minus the cost of recovery/liquidation, while the creditors recovered ₹176 under the code. The excess recovery of ₹76 is a bonus from the code. Though recovery is incidental under the Code, the financial creditors recovered 32.59% of their claims, which only reflects the extent of value erosion by the time the corporate debtors entered CIRP, yet it is the highest among all options available to creditors for recovery," the regulator said in its quarterly newsletter.

The government had introduced corporate insolvency resolution process (CIRP) on December 1, 2016. A total of 6199 CIRPs have commenced by the end of December 2022, of these, 4199 have been closed, according to the government data. Of the CIRPs closed, the corporate debtor was rescued in 2,298 cases, of which 894 have been closed on appeal or review or settled; 793 have been withdrawn; and 611 cases have ended in approval of resolution plans; while 1901 have ended in orders for liquidation.

Cos intend to hire more freshers in Jan-Jun 2023

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

AMID recession fears and macroeconomic headwinds, the overall hiring intent for freshers to experienced professionals has increased to 68% for January-June 2023, from 61% registered in July-December 2022.

TeamLease EdTech's Career Outlook Report for January-June 2023 says that 62% of employers surveyed across India intend to hire freshers till June 2023.

The top three industries with the most robust intent to hire freshers are Information Technology (67%), Ecommerce & Technology start-ups (52%) and Telecommunications (51%). Amongst the Tier I cities, Bengaluru comes at the top with maximum openings for freshers at 75%, followed by Mumbai (56%) and Delhi (47%).

Cloud Developer, Investment Banking Associate, Cybersecurity Engineer, Marketing Analyst, Social Media specialist, Content Writer, Campaign Associate, Microbiologist and Biomedical Engineer have emerged as top roles in freshers hiring, the report said.

Shantanu Rooj, founder & CEO TeamLease EdTech, said, "Even in the face of a global muted sentiments around team hiring, a large number of Indian employers have expressed intention to hire freshers; some to create a long-term supply channel whereas others to replace their expensive resources with fresh trainable talents."

City post statement victory over Arsenal

Manchester City delivered a resounding statement as they moved to the top of the Premier League with a 3-1 win at title rivals Arsenal at the Emirates Stadium on Wednesday. Second half goals from Jack Grealish and Erling Haaland lifted City back to the top of the table. Kevin De Bruyne had given City the lead and even Bukayo Saka's controversial equaliser wasn't enough to shake the champions' equilibrium.

INDIA LOOK TO MAINTAIN MOMENTUM

With India one win away from retaining the Border-Gavaskar Trophy, the significance of the second Test, beginning in New Delhi from Friday, can't be understated. A look...

IYER LIKELY TO START

India have a well-settled look even though there are questions marks over a few of the batters. It's likely that Shreyas Iyer, barring any last minute changes, will take his place in the middle-order in place of Suryakumar Yadav.

AUSTRALIA'S COMBINATIONS

Much will depend on the fitness of Cameron Green. If he's passed fit, they may likely give a debut to left-arm spinner, Matthew Kuhnemann. There's also the question of Mitchell Starc. If he's fit, he will definitely be in the conversation.

PITCH REPORT

Delhi is India's answer to Gabba in the sense they haven't lost there since 1987. But the last time there was a Test there, it went all five days with Sri Lanka holding out for a draw. It's expected to spin but it could be low, slow turner with some variable bounce.

WEATHER: Expect it to be warm and sunny on all five days.

Fortress Delhi awaits Oz

Since losing a Test vs WI in 1987, India have gone 12 matches without loss in national capital

FIROZ MIRZA @ New Delhi

IT was perhaps apt that this Stadium had a Kotla in its name for such a long time. To put it loosely, 'Kotla' translates to fort. That what's the Arun Jaitley Stadium — formerly known as the Feroz Shah Kotla — is to the Indian team. It's like India's own answer to the Gabba in Brisbane. For, they don't tend to lose many Tests in the national capital. Since losing a Test to the West Indies in November 1987, they have played 12 matches, winning 10 and drawing two.

This record is very much part of India's cricketing folklore because of the identity of some of these 12 matches. Anil Kumble's 10/74 vs. Pakistan in 1999. The inaugural Test of the Border-Gavaskar Trophy in 1996. One of Pakistan's last ever Tests on Indian soil in 2007. A marathon South Africa blockathon (AB de Villiers played one of the slowest innings on record) before India won with mere overs to spare after tea on the final day.

> We don't see these things (record), you can't look back at history. You know that if you have to play well, you have to focus on the next 5 days of the Test match.
>
> Rahul Dravid

So, it was a surprise to hear India coach Rahul Dravid say he didn't know about the record. "I didn't know the record," he had said on Wednesday. "We don't see these things, you can't look back at history. You know that if you have to play well, you have to focus on the next 5 days of the Test match."

"Whatever happened in the past, it happened in the past. The opponents were different. We can't dwell on history so much. We can look at some of it, every team does it. We look at what time of the year the matches happened in Delhi, what were the scores and all that. We look into all these stats carefully," he had said.

But if the past records are looked at carefully, they will suggest Delhi in fact has become India's happy hunting ground in the past three-and-a-half-decade. To begin with, India were not as formidable at home as they are today till the 90s. In fact, until that last loss in Delhi, India's win/loss ratio was 0.823 at home as they had won only 28 and lost 34 in the period. As many as 76 games turned out to be drawn matches. A solitary match finished in a tie. But since then, India have gradually transformed into a force to reckon with, especially in home conditions. They have played 130 matches thereafter winning 75 and losing 19 while 36 were drawn games. Their win/loss ratio also jumped to 3.94 in that period. These 19 lost matches were played out at different venues across the country but not in the national capital. And this unbeaten record in Delhi can make life difficult for Australia, who are eyeing a comeback.

As far as the team from Down Under is concerned, they had won only once at the venue out of seven matches they played here so far. What's more alarming is the fact that they last emerged winners here in 1959, their first outing at the venue. Apart from Aussies, only two Test playing nations have won in Delhi (England thrice and West Indies twice).

In fact, Australia's last Test in Delhi in 2013 ended inside three days with the MS Dhoni-led team registering a 6-wicket victory. Spin twins R Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja picked up 14 wickets between them as the hosts completed the clean sweep by thrashing the visitors 4-0. Given the fact that Ashwin, who ran through their batting line-up in the second innings of the first Test, is third highest wicket-taker in Delhi with 27 scalps from four matches, he can only add to the woes of Pat Cummins and Co.

The contest can potentially decide who will possess the glittering trophy, as a win can help India go 2-0 up in the four-match series and retain the crown by virtue of being holders (India are winners of the previous two editions).

For Aussies to reverse the outcome, they have no other option than to breach the fortress, which they haven't managed to conquer for more than six decades.

Visitors may play three specialist spinners

FIROZ MIRZA @ New Delhi

BRUISED and battered by the Indian spin duo of Ravichandran Ashwin and Ravindra Jadeja in the first Test, Australia are mulling over a plan to field three specialist spinners for the first time on Indian soil for the second match of the series.

But for it to happen, Cameron Green's fitness remains critical. Indications are that the batting all-rounder can be the second pace option along with skipper Pat Cummins in the Delhi Test, which begins on Friday, even if he is not 100 per cent fit. His inclusion in the playing XI will give the tourists a luxury of playing three spinners in the five-man bowling attack.

"Having a right-hander helps and him (Green) providing our fifth bowling option also helps," Australian skipper Pat Cummins said on the eve of the match suggesting there is a plan in place if Green is passed fit.

Green and pacer Mitchell Starc had spent considerable time in the nets on Wednesday. He batted for a little more than an hour receiving throwdowns at full pace from Australia's batting coach apart from facing spinners during the session. The 23-year-old from Western Australia, who had a surgery after he broke his index finger during the Boxing Day Test against South Africa last year, also did some catching drills with a hard ball giving hope to the Australian side.

Not worried with his bowling, it's Green's batting and fielding that seems to have prevented the visitors from taking a final call on the team composition as there seems to be a feeling that he hasn't faced the pacers a lot since he had the surgery. "He's a big player. It certainly helps the team function well from batting and bowling. You have got to be able to perform as well. He's still coming back from that injury. He's only had [one] session where he's catching with a hard ball. He had a really good session yesterday (Wednesday). We will see how he pulls up," Cummins added. Green's availability could also mean a debut for Matthew Kuhnemann, who was flown in from Melbourne earlier this week to replace Mitchell Swepson. Kuhnemann appears to be ahead of Aston Agar to feature in the contest.

Kuhnemann has played only 12 first-class games so far but he has the experience of playing in the sub-continent.

IT'S NOT OKAY

GOMESH S
Express @ Women's T20 World Cup
CAPE TOWN

ON the afternoon of January 4, 2023, @EnglandCricket, one of England Cricket Board's twitter media handles, had posted a picture of the women's squad that was set to leave for the inaugural U-19 Women's T20 World Cup in South Africa. It was a group photo of the team. The caption read: "Off to the first ever Women's Under 19 Cricket World Cup in South Africa!"

As wishes started pouring in from the fans and parents, something else happened as well in the replies section of the tweets. Several accounts, most of them anonymous, started commenting on the way the players look, cropping some of the individual's pictures, and asking for their personal social media accounts in Hindi, English, etc. It evoked a worrying and, at some level, angry response from the parents of the players and cricketing fraternity likewise. "Disgusted by some of the responses on this post. In what world is it okay to just sexualise women? In what world is it okay to SEXUALISE CHILDREN?," tweeted English broadcaster Georgie Heath. Despite the reporting of the replies by the people who meant well, it became a trend of sorts as the U-19 World Cup began, with some of the photos from the ICC's official twitter account receiving similar replies.

Sadly, this was nothing new. Far for too long and often, women athletes are sexualised on social media, with a section of their comments commenting on their looks and not about the skill-sets they possess. Comments like these on a public platform can have a massive impact on any athlete. England batter Lauren Winfield-Hill, who recently opened up about the challenges she had to face as a queer athlete growing up, says that it is a real problem that needs to be addressed. "You know, the impacts are the same for athletes or people featured in the photos. So why should we treat it any differently to what we would do if it was something that was spoken about in the flesh. It should be something that people are held accountable for," Winfield-Hill tells this daily.

"We perceive male athletes based on how good they are at their sports and there seems to be other things that come into female athletes, and it's not purely just on how good they are. It's how they look or what they wear and all those sorts of thing. In male sports, very rarely does that come into account. Whereas, it seems okay to comment on other areas of a female's life, whether it's sexuality, what they choose to wear, their body type, and all those sorts of things. It's completely irrelevant. You just want to be judged on your sport, that's the space that we're operating in. And it needs to be fair," says the 32-year-old.

Her comments are backed by science. According to an experimental study conducted by Sam Gregory, who was working with Sportlogiq — a company that could animate an entire match with players represented by sticks — the way a sports match is packaged and broadcasted to the audience has a significant impact in the way the audience perceives the sport and the athletes.

Alyssa Healy (54 n.o) & Beth Mooney (56 n.o) put up an opening-wicket stand of 113 runs to help Australia beat Sri Lanka by 10 wickets on Thursday | AFP

In 2021, Gregory and his team conducted the experiment with a group of 105 football fans split into two groups. 47 people were made to watch the original broadcast, 58 the stick figures of a men's and a women's game. In the first experiment, 57 per cent of those who watched the live game said that men's game was of better quality where as 59 per cent of those who watched the animation said that the women's game was better. Be it the quality of the stream, the commentary or the pace at which the game is packaged, it all matters and it all has a role to play in the way female athletes are perceived.

How do we make the space better and more inclusive for everyone? She believes education and taking women's sports to the audience in the right manner are the way to go.

IN DESPERATE SEARCH FOR WIN

ALL FOUR TEAMS THAT WOULD BE IN ACTION ON THURSDAY AT CAPE TOWN ARE YET TO OPEN THEIR ACCOUNT. A LOOK...

EYE ON ANGRY DEVINE

Sophie Devine was just angry after the loss against South Africa. She said as much. And Bangladesh might just end up facing the fury of Devine who has a point to prove.

SEEKING INSPIRATION AMID CHAOS

Bangladesh would want to take inspiration from the way skipper Niga Sultana and pacer Marufa Akter have performed in the World Cup so far. If they manage to pull off an upset against New Zealand, it would be massive.

INJURY CONCERNS FOR WINDIES

As they suffered another defeat against India, West Indies had more than just that to worry about. Stafanie Taylor was stretchered off the field after pulling her hamstring and Hayley Matthews too left the field by the end of the game after injuring her shoulder.

IRELAND'S QUEST FOR A POINT

They had shown intent with the bat and had long hours of fielding training on the day before the Pakistan game. However, their hard work hasn't translated into results. Against West Indies, they will have to bring their A-game to be able finally to secure a point for themselves.

Chennai may host major hockey event in 2023

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

INTERNATIONAL hockey may return to the Mayor Radhakrishnan Stadium for the first time since 2008. Fifteen years after the city hosted a bilateral series against Belgium, the city, according to people in the know, is in the running to conduct an important international event.

To this end, a two-member Hockey India is on a two-day inspection of the site.

It's believed they will pass on the finer details to the state government apropos refurbishment of the stadium that's already started.

Men's team chief coach job vacancy closed

Meanwhile, HI have officially closed the job application for the chief coach of the men's senior national team. They had inivited applications as soon as Graham Reid signalled his intention to leave office following a disappointing World Cup campaign last month. They have also closed the application for support staff including scientific trainer and analytical coach. India's next assignment is the Pro League matches in the country next month.

Pacers put Saurashtra on top in final

AGENCIES @Kolkata

BENGAL'S dream of winning a Ranji Trophy after more than three decades suffered a setback as left-arm Saurashtra pace duo of Jaydev Unadkat and Chetan Sakariya rattled the home team's top-order to bundle them out for a paltry 174 on the opening day of the summit clash here on Thursday.

It would have been more embarrassing for Bengal but spin all-rounder Shahbaz Ahmed (69) and wicketkeeper Abhishek Porel (50) saved the hosts from the blushes with gritty half-centuries. The duo showed the way for the top-order in a 101-run stand for the seventh wicket and batted close to four hours to frustrate Saurashtra. But they looked in a sense of urgency and took risks as Saurashtra wrapped up Bengal innings with left-arm spinner Dharmendrasingh Jadeja (2/19) scalping two wickets.

At close on day one, Saurashtra were 81 for 2, trailing Bengal by 93 runs. Brief Scores: Bengal: 174 in 54.1 ovs (Shahbaz 69, Abhishek 50; Unadkat 3/44, Sakariya 3/33) vs Saurashtra 81 for 2 in 17 ovs.

Dortmund overcome Chelsea in CL

AFP @ Dortmund

A SUPERB length-of-the-field goal from Borussia Dortmund forward Karim Adeyemi helped his side to a 1-0 win over Chelsea on Wednesday, putting them in the box seat to qualify for the Champions League quarterfinals.

Adeyemi's goal came during a period of sustained dominance from the visitors early in the second half, with the Germany forward pouncing on a clearance from a Chelsea corner. Adeyemi sensed the opportunity and ran the length of the field, rounding both Enzo Fernandez and goalkeeper Kepa Arrizabalaga to give Dortmund the lead in the first leg tie. Dortmund captain Jude Bellingham told German TV when Adeyemi finds himself in space "not many players can really stop him." "He had a tough time coming here at the start — finding his feet — but now he's flying."

After the match, Adeyemi praised his side's desire to fight for giving them an advantage ahead of March's return leg in London.

"I had a little bit of luck, but I'm really happy about the goal," he said.

"Everyone fought for everyone else — (the win) was really important for the return leg."

Wednesday's results: Club Brugge (BEL) 0-2 Benfica (POR); Dortmund (GER) 1-0 Chelsea (ENG).

Sumit Nagal in action against Jason Jung during Round 2 of the Chennai Open on Thursday | ASHWIN PRASATH

Nagal completes fightback to enter last 8

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Chennai

2023 has not begun on a good note for India's leading men's singles tennis players. They have needed wildcards to even qualify for the main draw of a home Challenger. None of them managed to figure in the qualifying rounds of the Australian Open, first time that has happened in recent times. A few of the singles players are also increasingly pivoting to doubles where the stress on the body is less. To top it off, they were relegated to World Group II in the Davis Cup for the first time in their history. To put it mildly, the only way is up.

Sumit Nagal showed there's still some life left with a come-from-behind three sets win over Jason Jung to advance to the quarterfinals of the Chennai Open. On a typical early Chennai summer day, Nagal, who lost nearly 14 months in 2021 and 2022 recovering from hip surgery, showed the form that had taken him to a career-high of 122 in August 2020. Ranked 506 these days as he suffered some early exits whilst still feeling his way from the above-mentioned hip surgery, he used one his big weapons — forehand — in an effective manner to ground Jung in almost two hours 3-6, 6-2, 6-0. By the time the third set begun, it was evident that the Indian, who became the first from the country to reach the last eight of a Challenger in 2023, had gained the upper hand.

There were a few eyebrows raised when the 25-year-old didn't get a wild card but having through the qualifiers, those extra few matches has helped him. He said as much in a press conference following his first round win over Ryan Peniston. He next faces unseeded Brit Jay Clarke for a place in Saturday's semifinal.

Results (Rd 2): James Duckworth bt Hamad Medjedovic 6-2, 7-6 (3), Max Purcell bt Petr Nouza 7-5, 6-3, Jay Clarke bt Dimitar Kuzmanov 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.
